A 66-year-old South Pottstown man was injured seriously yesterday morning when this car he was driving collided with a coal truck at High and Evans streets. The 66-year-old man, Joseph O. Evans, 118 Root avenue, South Pottstown, was admitted to Memorial hospital. His car was going north on Evans street; the truck, west on High street. Richard Wright is looking over the wreckage.

Man Is Reported in 'Fair Condition' After Car-Truck Crash at Intersection

Joseph O. Evans, longtime fireman and maintenance man at Pottstown YMCA, was in only "fair" condition in Memorial hospital with injuries suffered yesterday morning when his car was demolished in a crash with a truck at High and Evans streets.

FIRESTONE GETS SAFETY AWARDS

Safety Council's Top Prize Given to H. L. Andrews

The local Firestone plant's safety director was presented with the National Safety Council's award of honor at a dinner last night in the plant's cafeteria.

Recipient of the award was H. L. Andrews. Making the presentation was Roger S. Firestone, president of the plastics company.

Firestone is the only rubber company in the country which has received this award seven times.

The basis of the award was the company's low accident frequency for the past year—1.8 accidents for each one million man hours worked. This is the lowest record ever reached.

THE NATIONAL average frequency for the rubber industry is 5.9.

The safety council's rubber section safety contest plaque went to W. H. Swartwood, production manager of plastics.

His division worked throughout 1952 without a single disabling injury, and it's the third straight year the division has won the award.

W. D. Handley, manager of the resin plant, accepted the council's chemical section plaque, also for having gone through 1952 without a disabling injury.

THE PLANT'S current safety record has surpassed the past year's. As of May 27, 69 straight days had been passed without a disabling injury.

Harry C. Woods, secretary of the Lehigh Valley Safety Council, Bethlehem, spoke to the employees on "Where Safety Begins and Ends."

Two to Be Heard On Traffic Charges

Two Pottstown men were scheduled for hearings last night before Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus, of the Seventh ward, on charges of driving while their licenses were suspended.

George J. Koval, 371 South street, was arrested the past May 16 when Patrolman William Mars apprehended him on North Evans street.

Robert J. Bowman, 138 High street, was arrested, on information received, by Reading State Trooper John C. Beamer on the Reading concourse the past May 23.

THE WEATHER

MEMORIAL DAY RITES ARE SET FOR BOROUGH

Thousands Will Honor War Dead in Rites Today

HEAVY TRAFFIC EXPECTED OVER WEEKEND HOLIDAY

Thousands of Pottstonians will honor their dead in joint and private ceremonies today and then take to the highways to enjoy the first holiday weekend of the new Summer season.

Last-minute preparations were being completed last night for two-hour long Memorial services that will include a parade of veterans this morning starting at 9 o'clock.

But hundreds of Pottstonians got the jump on the gun as State police at both Reading and Jeffersonville barracks reported highways jammed with holiday traffic last night.

And ticket clerks at the Reading station stated that business was heavy all day yesterday as travelers bought tickets for Philadelphia and the seashore.

All High street retail merchants will close their doors for the day, and almost every major plant in the borough will cease operations for the two days.

MEANWHILE, the weather man in Philadelphia promised cloudy weather with slightly higher temperatures for today and tomorrow.

He said there shouldn't be any rain for the weekend.

"Slightly higher" temperatures should mean the mercury will stick in the 70's.

Yesterday's highest mark was reached at 4 p. m. when the thermometer registered 68.

The morning was cool, mostly in the 50s, and a repetition of that performance is expected for today and tomorrow.

ALL AVAILABLE State police will be on the job today and tomorrow. No men will be given days off, one officer at Jeffersonville barracks, said yesterday in anticipation of some of the year's heaviest traffic.

Traffic was heavier all through the day yesterday, but the peak was reached about 9 p. m. when roads expected to be jammed throughout today and tomorrow.

Mercury Is Early For Holiday Issue

So that Mercury employees might enjoy the Memorial Day holiday, this edition went to press at 9 o'clock last night, six hours earlier than usual.

The Mercury will afford switchboard service Saturday morning for classified advertising, circulation and editorial inquiries. The editorial department will be open Sunday at 3 o'clock, the classified advertising department at 6 p. m. Sunday.

Be sure to call The Mercury at any time with newstips.

COUNTY COURT TO HEAR CASES

29 Area Residents Picked For Jury Duty in This Session

Operating speakeasies, shoplifting, stealing a television set from a church and shooting a neighbor's dog—these are among the charges made in Pottstown cases to be tried next week in Montgomery county Criminal court.

For the session, which opens Monday, names of 29 area residents have been drawn for jury duty.

In the speakeasy charges, eight area men and women will face trial as the result of raids conducted the past March by State Liquor Control board agents, assisted by local police.

They are accused of selling or permitting the sale of beer, wine or liquor without a license. Two of them, Lawrence Calloway, 63, Road B, Hilldale, and Mae Bell McCalvin, 33, of 724 Beech street, also are accused of selling home-made beer or wine.

THE OTHER defendants are Wilson Carter, 39, of 554 Walnut street; Alex Laws, 36, and his wife, Esther, 30, of 557 Water street; Elsie Ennels, 36, Road B, Hilldale; Jesse Smith, 51, of 724 Beech street, and William Jefferson, 48, of 734 Beech street.

CARTER'S and Elsie Ennels' cases are set for trial Wednesday before Judge George C. Corson. (Continued on Page Three)

Truck Tips Over Against Stone Bridge, Almost Running Into Perkiomen Creek

A big tractor trailer loaded with Firestone tires tipped over against the side of the old stone bridge in Collegeville on Route 422 early yesterday and came dangerously close to going into the Perkiomen.

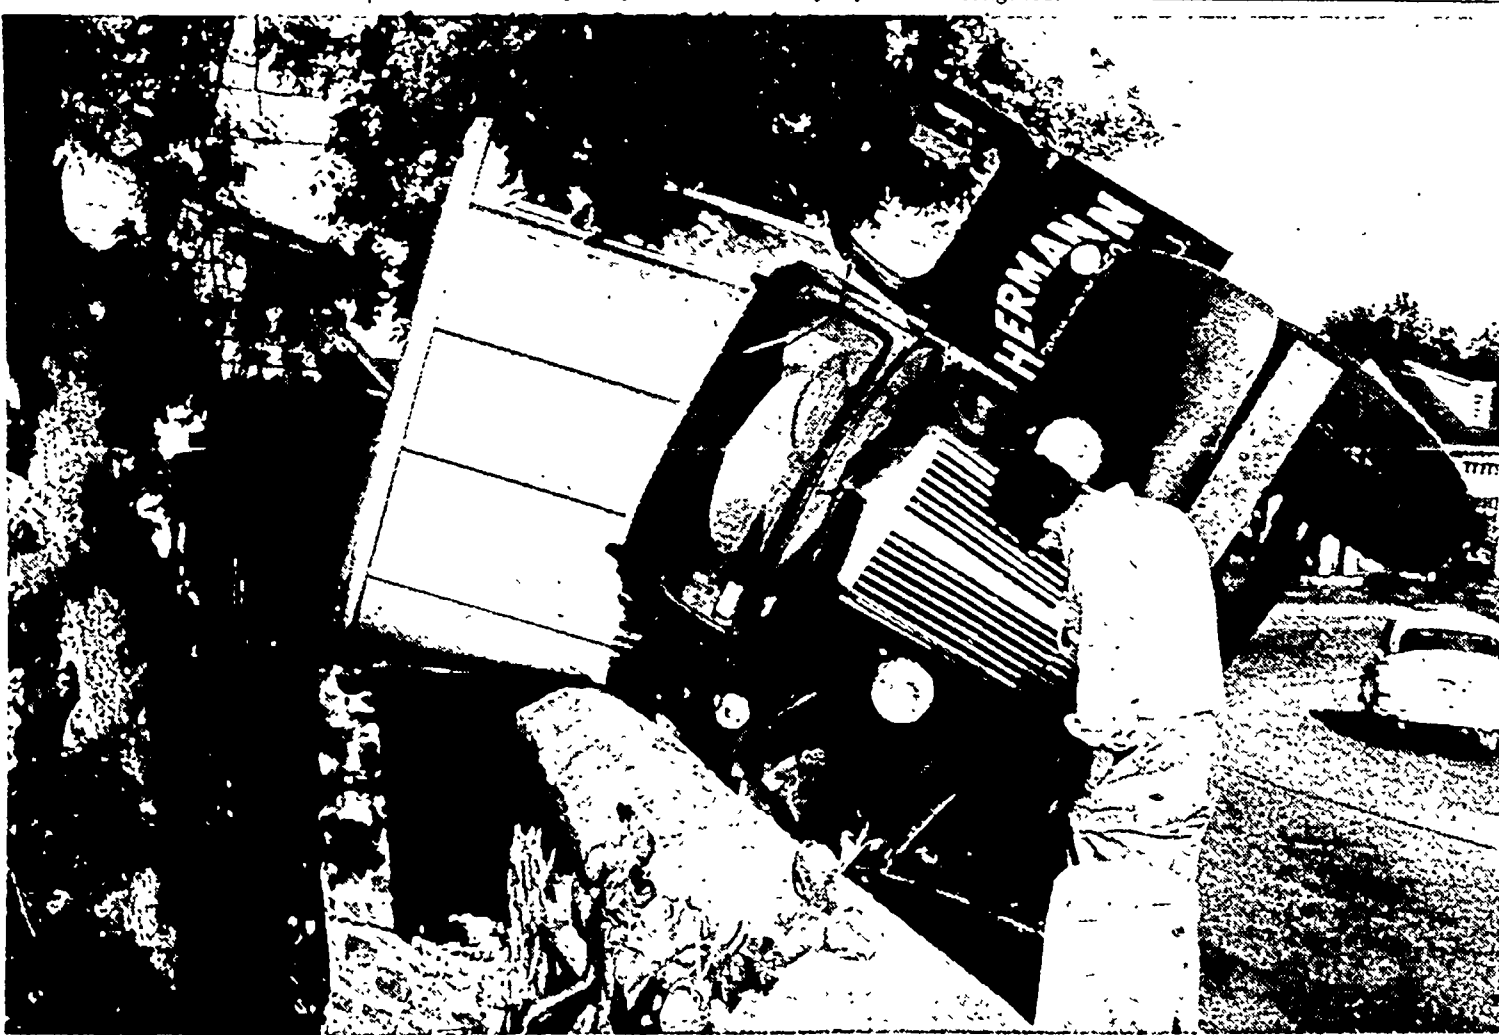

The driver, 24-year-old Hollis G. Williams, Philadelphia, escaped with a few scrapes and bruises of the right arm and leg. Damage to the right side and roof of the cab was rated as heavy by State police.

The accident happened at the eastern abutment of the bridge past a sharp curve that has sent several other trucks out of control in the past year. His truck tipped over on the bridge itself.

Unlike these previous accidents, yesterday's did not tie up traffic. As a Jeffersonville State police trooper on desk duty put it, "He was very considerate. He got over as far as possible and then tipped over."

THE TRUCKER was going east around the curve when his load of new tires shifted. Several guardrails along the stone abutment were damaged in the accident, which happened at 6:30 o'clock. Williams did not require immediate medical treatment.

State Troopers John Lutz and Harry Nyman investigated.

Roofer Calm Despite Fall

Although he fell ten feet from a porch roof only minutes before, Kenneth Landis, Pottstown RD 4, takes it easy and holds a cigarette as he's brought into Pottstown hospital by Robert Roth (left) and Harold Wentzel, Good Will ambulance men. Landis, who said he didn't remember how he fell, was admitted for X-rays and observation of back and hip injuries.

Area Man Suffers Back, Hip Injuries Following 10-Foot Fall From Roof

A 37-year-old Pottstown area man suffered back and hip injuries yesterday at noontime in a 10-foot fall from a roof on which he was working.

Kenneth Landis, Pottstown RD 4, was treated in Pottstown hospital's dispensary and admitted for observation and X-raying to determine whether there were any fractures. His condition was described as good.

A spokesman for Reliable Roofing company, for which he works, said he had been on the porch roof of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thompson, 841 North Franklin street, to fix some broken shingles.

With him was Robert Snyder, Pottstown RD 4, his son-in-law. They had only been on the roof a few minutes when the accident happened at 11:50 a. m. He apparently slipped while stepping from the ladder.

When he landed on the comparatively soft lawn, his moans and Snyder's shouts were heard by William Kazmyslowski, 567 Howard street, Stowe, who was working nearby for Levegood, Landscape service, and Mrs. Brook S. Binder, 843 North Franklin street.

Mrs. Binder called Good Will ambulance, which took him to the (Continued on Page Three)

Boy Pays 60 Cents For Stolen Junk, Freed to Enter Army

An 18-year-old Stowe boy who will go into the Army on Monday was released from a charge of stealing 60 cents worth of junk after he paid the 60 cents and the costs of the case.

Anthony Carmen Colucci, of 504 Fairview street, Stowe, pleaded guilty but said he did not get any profit from the petty theft, committed at the Mayer Pollock scrap yard along South Keim street.

Restitution was ordered by Seventh Ward Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus after a hearing. Larceny cases involving less than $100 can be settled on such a basis.

Colucci was one of three boys apprehended by Reading State police investigating a series of junkyard thefts in Montgomery and Chester counties.

One of the others was Harvey Maute, 24, Linfield. When arrested Thursday night before Justice of the Peace Frank Evans, Linfield, he also agreed to make restitution and pay the costs.

The third, a 16-year-old East Vincent township boy, was turned over to Montgomery county juvenile authorities.

SENIORS TO HOLD BACCALAUREATE

Pottstown Class Ready For Its Program Tomorrow

Pottstown Senior High school seniors will hold their Baccalaureate services tomorrow night at the school auditorium starting at 7:30 o'clock.

The sermon will be given by the Rev. Haywood L. Butler, pastor of Second Baptist church.

The service will go as follows: The Pottstown High School band, with Lester F. C. Smith conducting, will open the ceremonies with a military band suite.

Then the band will play for the processional. A hymn will be sung by the congregation and the Rev. C. William Ebbert, St. Paul's R. C. church, will give the invocation.

After a responsive reading, the congregation will sing the Gloria Patri.

THE SEARLES Methodist church choir will sing "Hear My Prayer" and the Rev. Eugene B. Umberger, pastor of Transfiguration Lutheran church, will read the Scripture.

After a prayer by the Rev. Umberger the band will play "Panis Angelicus."

The Rev. Butler's sermon will be followed by another hymn and the benediction will be made by (Continued on Last Page)

Kohler Will Contact Beers on Nomination

Paul P. Kohler, borough Democratic chairman, said last night he planned to contact the Rev. Laurence T. Beers, pastor of First Baptist church, over the weekend to learn if he will accept the party's nomination for school director.

The Rev. Beers was nominated at the May 19 primary by write-in votes. No candidate was on the ballot.

Kohler said he expected to visit the pastor with Democratic Burgess William A. Griffith. So far, Kohler said, he has received no word on whether the Rev. Beers will accept.

Thursday night, the Rev. Beers declined comment on his nomination.

2 COUNCILMEN VOW ACTION ON FLOODING

Queen Street Residents Told Sewer Check To Be Made

PLEDGE FOLLOWS PROTEST VOICED BY HOUSEWIVES

Both councilmen from the Sixth ward, where Queen street residents are flooded out every time it rains, promised yesterday that they'd take some action immediately to improve the situation.

"We're going to ask Paul Marshall, chairman of the highway committee, to have the storm sewer that serves the 1200 block of Queen street checked to find out if it's still giving proper service," Councilman Ernest C. Hurter and William H. Reifsnnyder said yesterday.

It's possible, the two went on, "that the line has broken pipe in it or that roots have grown into the pipe and that as a result it's not carrying its full capacity."

The action came as a result of a flood of protests from housewives and home owners in the 1200 block that nearly equalled the intensity of the water floods that washed their property after two recent rain storms.

HOUSEWIVES told The Mercury this week that storm sewers in the East End were the only storm sewers between Keim street and Moser road and asked that more adequate sewers be laid.

"Some effort will be made to correct the condition, as far as possible, immediately," the two councilmen said.

"If we find that the line is in satisfactory condition, then it probably will have to be replaced with a larger pipe. This line has to carry water from a large arch under High street in addition to the storm water from Queen and South streets."

"We have learned," the men said, "that when this line was installed about 25 years ago the contractors who erected the houses at this location used pipe left over from a sanitary sewer job installed previously."

"THEY SHOULD have installed larger pipe at that time but these were available at little or no cost. That's the reason for the trouble at this time."

The councilmen went on to explain that if larger pipe has to be installed to correct the situation, it would probably be necessary to install a larger pipe from Queen to the alley between Queen and South streets.

"Several years ago, the borough installed a storm sewer on South street to carry off the storm water at South and Rohland streets," they recalled.

Lost Dog Claimed By Local Owner

The little lost fox terrier pictured on the front page of the Mercury yesterday is back home this morning.

His owner, Gordon Eschbach, 45 West Second street, reclaimed the pet from Willard H. Wilkinson, borough dog catcher, at the dog pound last night shortly before 7 o'clock.

Wilkinson said that Eschbach identified the animal by telling him how many brown spots it had.

He said that the brown, black and white terrier was a pet of his whole family, including his three children, Linda, 4½; Jean Anne, 8; and Larry, 2. He said it strayed away two weeks ago.

There's Economy in These Beef Cuts

Surveys show that the average homemaker makes use of less than 10 per cent of the scores of available meat cuts. Since price per pound is affected by this demand for a comparatively few cuts, it is evident that she is overlooking many cuts that would help to stretch her meat dollar.

Because meat is the center of the meal and is important in the food budget, it is of distinct advantage to be familiar with as many cuts as possible.

Heavy Rains Delay Planting Row Crops

HARRISBURG, May 29 (AP)—The seven days just ended was the third consecutive week that heavy rains delayed planting and cultivation of row crops on Pennsylvania farms, the State Agriculture department reported today.

Thunderstorms in the central part of the State caused erosion of fields and some flooding, according to a Federal-State survey.

There was little planting of corn in Northern and most Central counties. Farmers in Northern counties, delayed in the seeding of oats, are switching to other crops.

Due to light rainfall, corn was planted rapidly in the Southeastern part of the State. Farmers began planting soybeans in Southern and Central counties.

Strawberry picking increased in the Southeast and other fruits are doing well. Scab was found in some orchards where spraying was interrupted by unfavorable weather.

Early-planted canning peas are showing pods. Tomatoes have a good start but a lot remain to be planted. A lot of potatoes still have to be planted but a few early stands are in bloom.

Foundation Suggests 'Green Carpets' for Home Grounds Program to Prevent Livestock Diseases

With farm income down, the American Foundation for Animal Health today suggested a six-point plan to help farmers make up some of this year's reduced profits.

"Millions can be added to farm incomes by a six-way program of combating the losses usually caused by livestock disease," a spokesman said. Here are the disease - prevention steps suggested:

Isolate newly-purchased livestock long enough to be sure they are not disease carriers.

Prevent tracking of disease from one farm to another. Visitors and salesmen can bring in a livestock infection on their clothing or shoes.

Make war on rats. They can carry disease germs from farm to farm.

Use only trucks which have been disinfected before hauling livestock. Keep rendering trucks away from livestock areas on the farm.

Get rid of crows and pigeons. Some diseases may be carried by birds.

Obtain a diagnosis when first disease symptoms are noticed—and warn neighbors so they can safeguard their livestock, too.

Trees Are Harmed By Home Building

Thousands of prospective home owners this Spring will choose building sites adorned with beautiful trees. Although many of these trees will be badly damaged or killed later during the construction work.

Few home builders realize it in advance, but here's what frequently happens, according to F. C. Carr, field representative of a tree expert company.

Limbs and bark are torn and roots are cut by excavating and construction equipment. Careless workers burn scrap lumber and other waste near trees, which are injured by flames and excess heat.

Piles of earth, wood or bricks are dumped where they cover the root system, cutting off the tree's rain supply for weeks or months at a time. Tar, lime, plaster, chemicals and other injurious materials are spilled in the feeding area.

In a press conference before his speech, Benson said supports should be a minimum guarantee to farmers like the minimum wage laws for workers, but added, "There is danger in doing for people what they could do for themselves."

PLANTS to be used as "green carpeting" on the home grounds should be chosen for dependability of growth, hardiness and compact character of the foliage.

Two useful ones are shown in the accompanying Garden Graph. One is known as ajuga or Bugleweed. The other is called moneywort. Both are reliable.

Ajuga will spread its low rosettes of leaves anywhere you care to plant it. Its blue, white or rose-colored flowers are borne in terminal spikes in May and June.

Ajuga is easily grown from seed, or it can be propagated by division in either spring or autumn. There is also a variegated variety. In dense shade where nothing else will grow, or in moist spots, moneywort will prove practical as a "green carpet." It has shiny leaves and produces small, yellow flowers.

It is a real ground cover, but don't let it creep into the lawn area, or it will quickly become a pest.

Among the many ground covers which can be used to hide bare spots under trees are myrtle, evergreen bittersweet, euonymus in many varieties, English ivy and pachysandra.

Sedums, thymes and veronicas may also be used on small areas where a ground cover, other than grass, is needed.

Man Sent to Mexico City To Check Cattle Disease

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson named Dr. M. R. Clarkson to go to Mexico city and deal with the new outbreak of foot and mouth disease that has again closed the border to the importation of Mexican cattle.

Clarkson, deputy administrator of the Agricultural Research administration, planned to leave for the Mexican capital immediately.

Benson also asked Albert K. Mitchell of Albert, N. M., chairman of the livestock advisory committee on foot and mouth disease, and Dr. L. R. Noyes, who retired in December as US do-director of the joint Mexican-US commission for the eradication of foot and mouth disease, to join Clarkson in Mexico city.

• This is the story of the Fox from owners all over the country. The Fox has 3 interchangeable units, the pick-up cylinder, the mow-bar and the corn unit. It will harvest all forage crops and the change from one to the other is quick and easily made. A 3-pow tractor is recommended for power take-off operation. The engine equipped models carry a 40 H.P. engine.

Nutritious Vegetables Should Be Sown To Get Big Yield From Small Space

Carrots Are Root Crops.

Chard Is a Leaf Crop.

Before you buy seeds for a Liberty garden this Spring, devote a few evenings to considering what vegetables you will grow. To some extent, the list will depend upon the amount of space you devote to this patriotic leisure-time activity.

Heaviest yield from small space, the vegetables you can use before can be obtained from vegetables of the low quality.

Then make other sowings, to include the "greens" which are mature in succession, so you can cook, and the salad leaves, which have a new crop, in harvest are eaten raw. They yield so close together that they are usually overplanted.

Next in food production, compared to space occupied, are vegetables of which we eat the roots, stems, or seed pods. Beets, carrots, parsnips, broccoli, snap beans, turnips and onions all give heavy yields, are rich in caloric value, vitamins and minerals.

Don't discard any of these on the theory that you do not like them, unless you have eaten them when half grown, fresh from the garden.

This is an experience which only home gardeners can enjoy, and it will give anyone a new conception of how delicious vegetables can be.

Vegetables which give the lowest return in food value for the space they occupy are those of which we eat the seed or fruits, such as melons, cucumbers, squash, sweet corn, peas and lima beans.

But if you can grow these on stakes, trellises or fences, thus exploiting the air rights of your garden area, you can afford these luxury crops even in a small garden.

TOMATOES SHOULD be grown in every garden, pruned and staked preferably, so they take up no more soil space than carrots, yet yield abundantly over a long season. Cucumbers, melons, and pole lima beans are all good crops for training on a garden fence, where they yield well.

A plan which keeps your garden space busy throughout the season will require some study. The crops which require most planning are those which give a short harvest and should be planted for several crops, maturing one after the other.

The tendency is to sow too much in the Spring, so there is more than you can use from the first harvest, then a scarcity later on.

The faster a vegetable grows, the less time it remains in good table condition after it matures. To prevent waste, you must sow at first only enough seed to produce

Use DDT to Control Boxwood Leaf Miner Feeding in Leaves

Boxwood leaf miners, small maggots that feed within the leaves, cause irregular blotches on both sides. Infested plants show loss of vigor and a yellowish-green color. The maggots stay in the leaves over winter and change to tiny, orange-colored flies in early May. Then the adult flies emerge and start the next generation of leaf miners as they lay their eggs in the tissue of new leaves.

R. G. Waltz, county agent, advises for control, to mix three tablespoons of DDT 50 percent wettable powder in one gallon of water and thoroughly spray infested plants before mid-May, making a second application ten days later. A 5 percent DDT dust may be used in the place of sprays.

Occasionally, the terminal leaves of boxwood will curl and take on a cup-like appearance.

Their damage usually is caused by the boxwood Psyllid. To control this aphid-like insect, spray the infested plants, when the first curled leaves are noticed, with two teaspoons of nicotine sulphate plus a handful of soap flakes in one gallon of water.

Spraying Elm Trees Kills Leaf Beetles

Elm leaf beetles often cause concern in houses when they come out of hibernation in the Spring and find their way into the rooms instead of to the outside. They are an annoyance but cause no damage.

R. G. Waltz, county agent, informs that spraying with an aerosol bomb or DDT 5 percent household spray will kill them.

Elm trees in the neighborhood may be sprayed with DDT at the rate of two pounds of the 50 percent wettable powder in 100 gallons, about June 15 to kill the newly hatched grubs. This will prevent or reduce further invasions of this insect in the house.

Gardening this Week

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
CHAPPAQUA, N. Y., May 29 (AP) — All gardeners have eyes which are bigger than their annual beds. I'm still planting seeds just so they won't go to waste. Assuming that every one of my zinnias germinates, for instance, I'll have around 2000 zinnias alone, plus the same number of marigolds, slightly fewer asters, calliopsis, salvia and some 18 other annual flowers in my garden.

I'll give most seedlings away, thin out others, and wind up as usual trying to crowd too many things into too small a space. No one ever has enough space to put in as much as one would like to.

Actually, it's getting harder and harder to be a sensible gardener. We've been discovered as a group of people who own houses and grounds which we must beautify, and now people are bringing out more and more fancy things, like new varieties of flowers, shrubs and trees which are irresistible.

They are packaging insecticides with easy instructions, MAYBE I CAN SQUEEZE THIS ONE IN HERE!

they are inventing wondrous gimmicks to make gardening easy.

All this is fine, but nervous-making. It's gotten so that now before I get out with my old-fashioned spray gun, I run quick to the newspaper for a look just to make sure they haven't discovered some brand new remedy overnight which

Bluebirds Find Happiness in Trees

Some birds are pickier than humans in selecting places they like to call home. Take the bluebird and the wren, two of our most efficient insect gulpers. The bluebird finds happiness building his nest in a tree with holes. So does the wren.

But trees with holes large enough to accommodate bird friends are the bane of the home owner proud of his grounds. To get these desirable bluebirds and wrens to make their feeding bailiwick on home properties, they've got to be provided with first-rate living facilities. This means setting up bird houses, rather than letting trees go to wrack and ruin.

In effect, both the bluebird and the wren are winged DDT cans. Best of all, insects don't

ANSWERS YOUR QUESTIONS
Q. At what age should chicks be wormed the 1st time?
A. It varies but usually birds need worming at 6 to 8 weeks. Large roundworms often infect chicks early—use Dr. Salsbury's Wormal in the mash for a quick 'n' easy treatment. Wormal also removes cecal worms and tapeworms. It is safe for birds of any age. This year, make more money from your chicks—follow a Wormal worming plan! (*Genus Raillietina)

Rev. David Longacre to Be Awarded Honorary Degree as Doctor of Divinity

The Rev. David L. Longacre, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, will be awarded the honorary degree of doctor of divinity at the Muhlenberg college commencement exercises Monday in Allentown.

The Rev. Longacre, who earned his bachelor's degree at Muhlenberg in 1918, has been at St. John's church since 1926.

Following his graduation from Muhlenberg, he entered the Lutheran ministry and graduated in 1922. The Rev. Longacre also served in the US Army for a year prior to entering the ministry.

He was awarded the degree of bachelor of divinity at the seminary in 1923, and in 1929 earned the degree of master of sacred theology.

REV. D. L. LONGACRE

ACTIVE IN CHURCH and civic affairs, the Rev. Longacre is a past president of the Reading conference of the Ministerium of Pennsylvania. He was also a member of the board of trustees of the Lutheran home at Topton from 1926 to 1931.

Married to the former Clara Andrews, the Longacres have two sons, Jacob, who is a senior at the Lutheran Theological seminary at Gettysburg, and David who is in the service.

Eight men, including former US Commissioner of Education Dr. Earl J. McGrath who will deliver the Commencement address, at the Muhlenberg college commencement next Monday morning.

Among the others to be honored are the president of the Lutheran Theological seminary at Gettysburg, the Rev. Dr. Harry F. Baughman, who will preach the Baccalaureate sermon, and six pastors.

OF THE SIX pastors to receive the degree of Doctor of divinity, three have a direct connection with St. John's church, Boyertown. The Rev. David F. Longacre STM has served as pastor of St. John's for almost twenty-seven years.

The Rev. Clarence H. Swavely, STM, a classmate and close friend of the pastor, a son of the congregation.

Frank C. Hilton Will Address Services at Fairview Cemetery

Memorial Day services will be conducted at 11 o'clock this morning in Fairview cemetery, Boyertown, at which time Frank C. Hilton, past national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will address the gathering there.

Prior to the special service in the cemetery, the firing squads and the color guards of the VFW and Charles B. Yerger Legion posts will conduct a short service at 9:45 a. m., in Union cemetery.

The group will then proceed to the Boyertown High school where a parade will form and commence promptly at 10:30 a. m. Scouting organizations, school children, Boyertown High school band, Legion drum and bugle corps, Legion auxiliary and members, VFW auxiliary and members, and borough officials will participate.

As the parade approaches the main intersection of Boyertown, a brief service will be conducted in the Mennonite cemetery honoring veterans.

In the event of rain, all services will be held in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Evangelical and Reformed, Boyertown.

Boyerstown Legion Group Hears Essay

Mrs. Ivy Fryer, Americanism chairman for the Charles B. Yerger Post 471, American Legion, Ladies' auxiliary, Boyertown, read an article on "I Speak For Democracy" at the meeting of the group held in the Legion home.

The article was written by Mrs. Fryer's niece, Kathryn Grim, a member of this year's graduating class in the Boyertown High school.

Mrs. Stanley Welder, poppy chairman, urged all members to assist in the sale of poppies during today's Memorial Day festivities in the borough.

Five past presidents of the auxiliary will attend a past presidents party to be held in the Berkshire hotel, Reading, on Tuesday night, June 9. They are Mrs. J. Ralph March, Mrs. Paul Knauer, Mrs. Ernest Weidner, Mrs. Leonard Blazes and Mrs. Lawrence D. Kohler.

Cub Scout Awards Made at Boyertown

Three Cub Scout awards were made and one new boy was enrolled at the monthly meeting of Boyertown Cub Scout Pack 1 held in the social room of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Boyertown.

During the meeting, attended by approximately 40 Cub Scouts and parents, Ralph Erb was admitted as a pack member.

The three members who received awards were: Ronald Strunk and Paul Kerschner who each received the wolf badge, wolf pin and the gold arrow point award; while Bruce Erb was presented with the wolf badge, wolf pin, one gold and one silver arrow point award. The presentations were made by Cubmaster James Burfette.

When the regular pack meetings are resumed again in September, special emphasis will be laid on the pack member's good behavior, attendance, uniform and advancement requirements, according to Cubmaster Burfette.

Scalp Collector Is Foiled By Highway Department

PITTSBURGH, May 29 (AP)—The past of a not-too-friendly Indian has caught up with him. Someone suggested naming a new stretch of western Pennsylvania highway after Chief Gaysuta. The State highway department investigated and decided the name was inappropriate.

The reason: Gaysuta roamed the American forests in Revolutionary times warring on the settlers and "collected" scalps by the basketful.

140 Persons Attend Annual Meeting At Royersford Methodist Church

The annual congregational meeting of Royersford Methodist church was attended by 140 persons Thursday night.

New members received during the year were introduced and each presented with a book, following the invocation by the Rev. Earl C. Carver, pastor, and singing of songs and choruses.

A plant was presented to Mrs. Mary DeHoff, as the oldest member of the congregation present, and a book to Christine Ortolani as the youngest member present.

A past president's pin was presented to P. Pearl Frederick, who served four years, the maximum time permitted as president of the Woman's society of Christian Service.

WEBSTER MITCHELL, in behalf of the congregation, welcomed the Rev. Carver back as pastor for another year, after being reassigned by Bishop Fred P. Corson to the Royersford charge at the recent Methodist conference.

A male quartet, composed of John Edleman, Bertram Brandreth, John Miller and Pastor Carver, sang two selections.

Three trustees were elected to the class of 1956: Earl D. Heffline, Joseph C. Peoples and Harvey L. Smith. Miss Frederick was elected trustee to fill the unexpired term of the late John F. Bisbing.

Mr. Peoples, chairman of the commission on finance, presented the budget for the year 1953-54. William McFavish, chairman of the dinner committee, thanked the members of his committee, Mitchell and Mrs. William Harbison, and all others who helped make the meeting a success.

The meeting closed with the singing of "Blest Be The Tie That Binds" and the benediction by the Rev. Carver.

Frame-Up Charges Hurlled by Diplomat Ousted in Spy Case

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—Grumbling "it's all a dirty frame-up," a Romanian diplomat who was ordered expelled in an alleged espionage scheme boarded a plane for home today.

The US Government ordered Cristache Zambeti out of the country after V. E. Georgescu, a naturalized American citizen, said the diplomat had attempted to blackmail him into spying for Red Romania.

Georgescu, 49, said Zambeti who was first secretary of the Romanian legation in Washington, told him to collaborate if he wanted to see his two sons again. Constantin, 19, and Peter Georgescu, 14, are still in Romania. The father reported the alleged threat to the Government.

Zambeti came her from Washington to board a plane at Idlewild airport for Brussels, enroute to Romania. Forced to halt momentarily at the airport by a crush of reporters and photographers, he told the newsmen, "I am very happy to go back to Romania."

Elimination Trials Set in Sewing at Keystone Grange

The national sewing contest will have its first round of elimination trials June 24 starting at 1:30 p.m. at the Keystone Grange.

Any member who still can thread a needle and has not signed an entry blank to join the contest must do so with the home economics committee before the next meeting.

Monday's meeting of the agricultural committee of the Pottstown grange will be under the direction of John Reinman. The home economics committee also is expected to attend this session.

At a recent meeting of the group, they were visited by members of the Wissahickon and Valley granges. Keystone presented a musical program under the direction of Caroline Rush.

Several round table discussions were held. During the apron contest prizes were won by Mrs. W. J. Stringer Sr., Mrs. Albert Zvarick and Mrs. William Gottshall.

A collection taken up at the end of the program will be sent to the cancer fund. Refreshments were served by Mrs. George McCleary and her committee.

Utica Man Committed To County Prison on Lewdness Charge

NORRISTOWN May 29 — A 62-year-old Utica, N. Y. man was committed to the county prison for a term of two months yesterday by Judge William F. Dannehower after he pleaded guilty to charges of open lewdness and public indecency.

The charges stemmed from his conduct in Pottstown the night of May 5 when he exposed himself to two teen-aged girls on West High street.

George Hutton, the defendant, was arrested the following night by Officer Paul Galloway who found him asleep on a sidewalk.

Galloway testified he recognized the man from a description furnished by the girls, who identified him.

HUTTON TOLD Judge Dannehower that he was under the influence of liquor and didn't remember performing the act for which he was arrested.

He said he was in Pottstown looking for a job at a private school.

It is believed that the horse came comparatively late among domestic animals, the camel and the ass preceding it as transport animals.

YOUR GEM STORY FOR TODAY

We feel that small free services go a long way in promoting good will between our customers and ourselves. It gives us a good feeling to be able to help our customers with their minor jewelry problems and still be able to say, "No charge for that, stop in again."

Therefore, we thought you might like to know and remember some of the free services which our store does provide; so here are some:

First, every single gift that is purchased at our store can be engraved free; while you wait if necessary. The gift is beautifully wrapped with gift paper and ribbon. A card is placed inside and it is even delivered locally or mailed anywhere immediately. So, if you are required to give a gift, you need only to step inside our store, choose the gift, fill out the gift card, and forget about it. We will take care of the rest.

Our beautiful silver punch bowl, ladle and tray are always available for your reception or party, free of charge. We feel that it's one of the finest in the area, you'll agree too.

Many people like to shop leisurely and with no thought of being "bullied" into buying something. Our store is noted for its courteous sales people. If you like an item you may buy it; and if you don't you can feel free to walk out without being annoyed by a high-pressure salesman.

Then there are the thousands of times each year when we clean jewelry, attach watch bracelets, straighten spectacles, and give gemological advice on antique jewelry. At all times we say: "No charge neighbor, stop in again sometime."

So you can plainly see why it will pay you to stop in to see us soon.

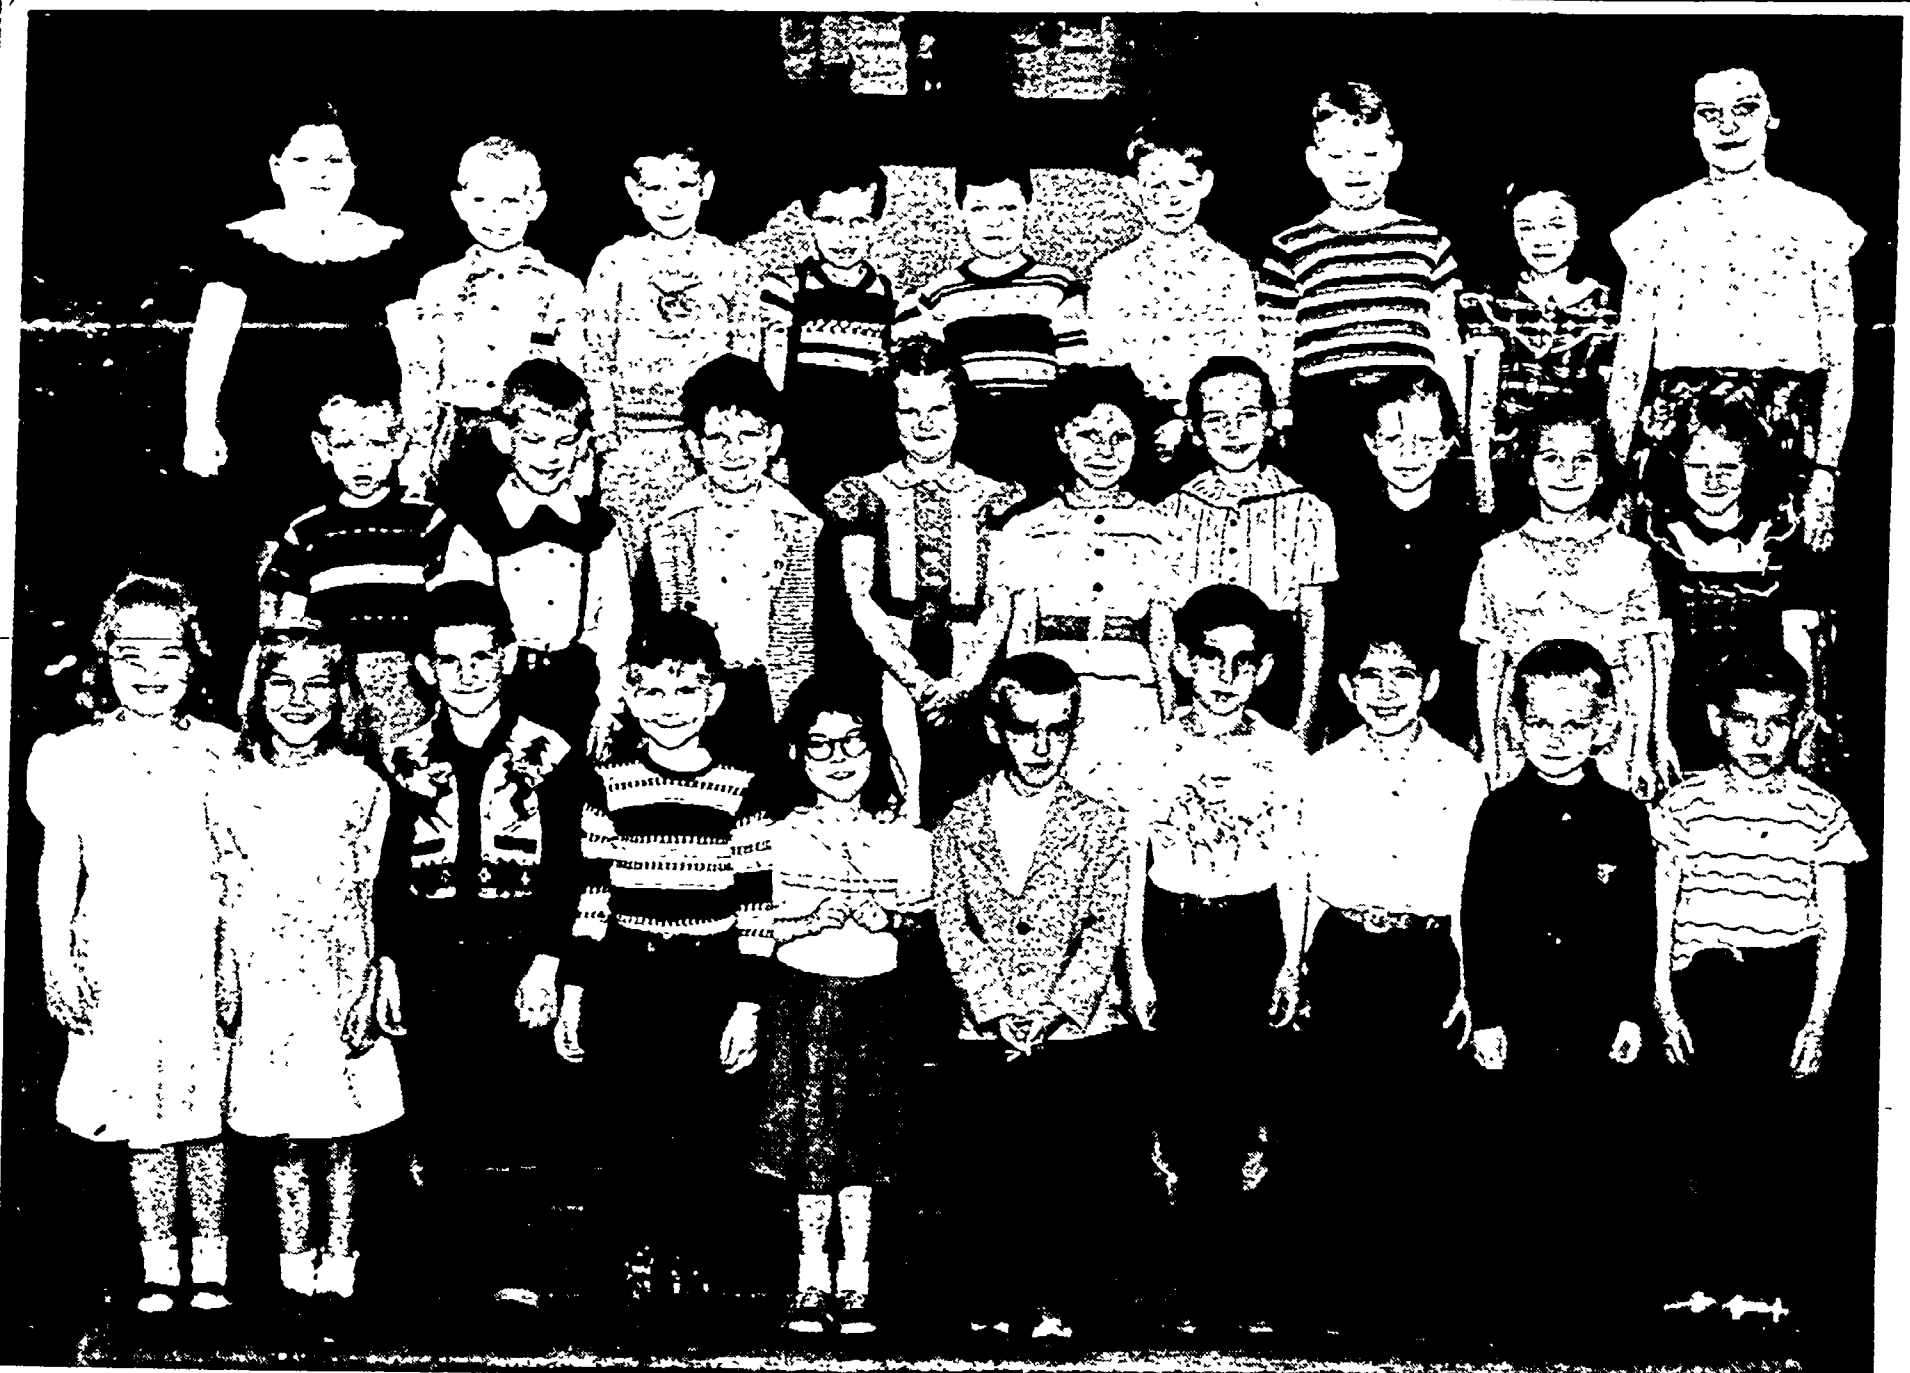

See you next Saturday.

SCHOOL DAYS

— In Upper Pottsgrove School —

Upper Pottsgrove Pupils Prepare To Begin Summer Time Vacations

By PHYLLIS SMITH

In John B. Ferdinand's Fifth and Sixth grade we prepared for our summer vacation which started yesterday.

We put things away and took down drawings.

We had our school picnic several days ago. It was a big success. We had hot dogs and rolls, potato chips, pretzels, orange drink and ice cream. Games were played before we ate and there was entertainment. Everyone had fun.

Clark Hughes went to Trooper. William McAllister went to Graterford. Carl Dice went to Sanatoga Speedway and Santa Fe Ranch in Reading. Richard Spayd went to Birdsboro. Richard Rhodes went fishing. Virginia Messer and Sandra Snyder went to Pottstown Landing. Pearl Rhoades went to Cedarville. Gerald Haring went to Boyertown.

BINNIE TOSHER went to Pine Forge. Barry Rhoades went to Norristown. Larry Gerhart went to Royersford. Donald Smoyer went to Sanatoga.

Danny Mayberry went to Delaware. Timmy Quigley went to Philadelphia. Stella Cotton went to Hamburg. Dolly Auman went to Spring City. Robert Fern went to New Jersey.

Clark Hughes brought a few bird riddles to school and asked the members of the bird club to try to guess what bird they told about.

Richard Rhoades reported that the club now has exactly 25 bird houses, bird shelters and two bird feeders.

The following members of the bird club have built and put up bird feeders, bird houses, and bird shelters around their home.

CLARK HUGHES, five bird houses, Gerald Herrlinger, three bird houses, Carl Dice, one bird house, Richard Rhoades, two bird houses, Charles Gaugler, two bird houses, Gerald Haring, two bird houses, Barry Rhoades, three bird houses, Kenneth Stroop, one bird house, Timothy Quigley, five bird houses, Richard Overholtzer, one bird house, Larry Gerhart, one bird feeder, and Francis Schroyer, one bird house.

Principal John B. Ferdinand, asks everyone during the Summer months to watch a bird and make notes of his habits.

It's Expensive to Slash Your Throat in Poland

VIENNA, May 29 (AP)—Headache powders and razor blades can be obtained almost only on the black market in Communist Poland.

Readers of Warsaw newspapers recently complained about a shortage of both State-produced items. Shortly after, police announced the arrest and imprisonment of three black marketeers peddling these items on the streets.

2 Bird Clubs Hold Final Meetings at Upper Pottsgrove

By LARRY GERHART

The final meeting of the Fifth and Sixth grade bird club for the school term was called to order by the president, Larry Gerhart, and the minutes were read by the secretary, Virginia Messer.

Wayne Pursel reported on the Baltimore oriole. Its length is eight inches and the eggs are blue with purple. The note is a chirp. They have a long bushy tongue for feeding on the nectar of trees and vine flowers and the female builds the best nest of all birds.

Clark Hughes brought a few bird riddles to school and asked the members of the bird club to try to guess what bird they told about.

Richard Rhoades reported that the club now has exactly 25 bird houses, bird shelters and two bird feeders.

Two Grades View TV Show on 'Vacation Days'

By PHYLLIS SMITH

On May 25, Mrs. Firing's Second and Third grades watched a television program. It was called "Vacation Days." It was about Summer vacation and imaginary trips to the seashore, country, and mountains.

Sure Lee Tisher went to Pine Forge. Jane Overholtzer went to the mountains. Forrest Prout went to Pine Forge. Frances Brazes went to the Pagoda, in Reading. Russell Wade went to Norristown. Regina Showers went to New York. Michael Young went to Philadelphia.

Russell Wade has a rabbit and bird. Jimmy Michael has a lizard. Carl Hasselhan has a cat. Bobby Rimel has a puppy. Michael Young has a goat.

State's Treefall May Be A Tourist Windfall

VISALIA, Calif., May 29 (AP)—California's famed Sequoia National park may have acquired a new tourist attraction as the result of a recent windstorm.

Park officials report a giant redwood felled by high winds landed across scenic Generals Highway and engineers say it would be cheaper to tunnel the road underneath than to remove the tree.

Consequently, the 2000-year-old forest giant may remain as a natural bridge.

Match Industry Booms In Portuguese Colony

GOA, Portuguese India, May 29 (AP)—Goa's first match factory hopes to reach a target of 1000 boxes per day gross output soon and plans exports to Pakistan, Portuguese East Africa, and British East Africa.

Launched by M. B. Shah, formerly of Zanzibar, the venture followed Shah's 1950 visit to Japan. He purchased machinery from the Toa Seiki firm, for $210,000. Two hundred workers are now employed.

It is estimated that about 10,000 oil wells drilled in the United States each year are "dry holes" and do not reach oil.

Animals and Acts Featured in Circus That'll Put on Two Shows Monday

Truckloads of 1000 wonders will be on display at the field in the rear of Pottstown hospital when the Kelly-Morris circus comes to town.

On Monday the largest motorized circus in America will perform at two matinees, 3:30 and 8:30 p. m. Each show will last for two hours.

The attraction is being sponsored by the Good Will Fire company.

After many months of travel and scouting for circus talent, William Morris, ex-topnotch acrobat and Bernice Kelly, ex-queen of the tightwire, have selected and assembled what is considered the absolute climax to all circus performances.

Featured in the 1953 lineup of acts is Capt. Eddie Kuhn, America's new king of the wild animal trainers, with his mixed group of performing lions, tigers, pumas, leopards and bears. These natural enemies of the jungle perform together and as a climax they are joined in the big cage by a wire-walking goat.

OTHER FEATURE acts include "Sharleena" and her panthers, Snyder and the Kelly-Morris Palomino Liberty Horse troupe, the Moreen troupe, world's fastest teeterboard act, featuring 35 tricks in three minutes and performing a triple somersault from the teeterboard to the shoulders, two groups of performing elephants, including Big Blanche, the largest elephant in the world.

Before the show begins, the menagerie will be on public display.

It includes animals from the five continents of the world. Included are llamas from the South American Andes, the American bison, water buffalo from the Orient, camels from Arabia, zebras, a four-ton hippopotamus, lions and other rare beast of burden — the animals from Africa and the ponies from the Holy Land.

Big Blanche, who weighs 11,000 pounds and is the largest elephant in the world, is an old-timer in show business.

ONCE in a while when one of the trucks or cars get stuck in the mud or sand one of the elephants is brought over to push it out. Not every elephant can do

But Big Blanche has acquired special talents along this line. More than once, she's successfully pushed a stuck vehicle from the mud, circus officials report.

The hippopotamus, a four-ton herbivorous mammal, is the paradox of the animal world. Contrary to belief, this monster cannot live for long out of water.

Its body weight being too much for the strength in its legs, it can only stay out of water long enough to find its food. Special handling and care are necessary to all circus animals, but the blood sweating hippo is the most demanding of them all, circus officials say.

WINDSHIELD'S A MUST

HARTFORD, Conn., May 29 (AP)—You've got to have a windshield to wipe under a new Connecticut statute. State law has long required windshield wipers but, through an oversight, forgot to specify the need for windshields. The current legislature has corrected that.

UN Command Is Caught in Crossfire From Reds, ROKs Over Truce Plan

MUNSAN, SATURDAY, May 30 (AP) — The United Nations command was caught today in a crossfire of opposition to its new "now or never" truce plan both from the warring Communists and the South Korean Government.

The first disclosure of Red opposition to some phases of the plan was contained in a letter which South Korea's member of the Allied truce team handed Thursday to Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior Allied delegate.

After the UN command kept silent on the letter, the South Korean truce delegate, Maj. Gen. Choi Duk Shin, made it public in Seoul Friday "in order to let the world know" the South Korean position.

South Korea's Government said in a formal statement that Choi "has not been authorized to make any presentation" but this was regarded as a technicality since it is known that President Syngman Rhee approved the letter in advance.

Choi's letter (1) Quoted the Reds' chief truce delegate as calling one part of the proposal "inconceivable" (2) Said the new plan amounted from the South Korean standpoint to a "surrender" to the Reds.

The UN command has never made public the plan since it was submitted Monday at a highly secret session at Panmunjom where the two teams are scheduled to meet again Monday.

Opposition from two directions to the plan appeared to have dashed new found hope that a speedy settlement could be reached on the truce-blocking problem of what to do about 14,500 Chinese and 21,000 North Korean Reds refusing to be returned to Communist rule.

Choi's letter quoted North Korean Gen. Nam Il, Senior Red truce delegate, as saying Monday at Panmunjom that an Allied proposal to give the United Nations final custody of any balking prisoners was "inconceivable."

"THE UNITED NATIONS... is a belligerent itself," Nam Il was quoted as contending, adding that the proposal "cannot be agreed to by our side."

However, Peiping Red radio maintained a marked silence on any aspects of the new Allied plan, suggesting that Communist-China may be in consultation with Moscow over high level decisions.

Choi's letter emphasized that he was expressing "my personal point of view" but it tied in with mounting protests of South Korean Government leaders that the new proposal amounts to "appeasement" of the Communists.

SENATE THREAT TO CUT UN FUNDS HITS PRESIDENT

Eisenhower Is Reported Disturbed by GOP's Proposed Rider

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported deeply disturbed today by a Republican-inspired senatorial threat to cut off US financial support if the United Nations admits Red China.

The President, who told a White House news conference yesterday he wanted more time to study the matter, was said to have discussed the threat at today's Cabinet meeting. There was a possibility he would clarify his position in a statement before the Senate acts next week.

Unless the President intervenes, the Senate may approve an appropriation bill rider putting more than 30 million dollars in US contributions to the UN on a monthly basis, subject to automatic cancellation if the Chinese Communists gain a seat in the organization.

This action, approved by a 20 to 4 vote of the Appropriations committee—with only four Democrats opposing the rider—presents a serious foreign relations problem to the President on the heels of his disavowal of the go-it-alone Korean policy voiced by Senator Taft (R-Ohio).

THE EISENHOWER dilemma is how to avoid the appearance of condoning UN acceptance of the Chinese Reds without letting Congress toss a monkey wrench into Allied relations with what amounts to a threat to scuttle the UN unless it bows to American will.

The story was unfolded in testimony from Gabriel Kerekes of Riverdale, N. Y., former financial expert for the Economic Co-operation Administration (ECA), and Clyde N. King of Washington, former chief of the ECA mission in Austria.

Roy Cohn, subcommittee counsel, said Cohn's wife told him her husband left his home in nearby Arlington, Va., two months ago and that no one knows where he is now. Cohn resigned several months ago as secretary of the monetary fund, an agency of the United Nations.

ELIZABETH BENTLEY, self-confessed Soviet spy courier, told the House Un-American Activities committee five years ago that as an official in the Treasury department Cohn was a "participant in a Soviet Spy ring." He denied the statement.

In 1951, Miss Bentley told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Cohn "was a member of the party for quite some time." Called before the Senators, Cohn refused to say whether he was a Communist, citing his constitutional privilege of declining to give possible self-incriminating testimony.

King and Kerekes told the Senators today that ECA officials had long protested pegging the exchange rate of the Austrian schilling at 10 to a dollar, saying it was not in the interest of this country but helped the Soviet Union.

King said the schilling was evaluated at a far higher rate than it was worth and that this rate was "neutralizing the benefits we were trying to give Austria under ECA."

Senate Investigators Uncover Case Of Currency Juggling by Ex-Official

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP) — Senate investigators turned up today a strange story of attempted currency juggling by Frank Cohn, a former Government official once named as having been a Soviet spy. Cohn vanished two months ago.

Witnesses told the Senate investigations subcommittee that in 1949, as secretary of the international monetary fund, Cohn plugged for a Russian-backed plan to block re-evaluation of the Austrian schilling. They said his attempt failed when his orders were deliberately disobeyed. The subcommittee decided to take the extraordinary step of asking the Senate to issue a warrant for Cohn's arrest. In addition, it agreed to ask the FBI's help in finding him.

The story was unfolded in testimony from Gabriel Kerekes of Riverdale, N. Y., former financial expert for the Economic Co-operation Administration (ECA), and Clyde N. King of Washington, former chief of the ECA mission in Austria.

French Forces Erect Buffer Zone to Block Possible Red Attacks

HANOI, Indochina, May 29 (AP) — French union forces have established a 62-mile buffer zone north of the Mekong river in Laos to defend the kingdom's key cities and the approaches to Thailand against another possible invasion attempt by the Communist-led Vietminh.

Spring monsoon rains have slowed all action and the Vietminh rebels have pulled out most of the four divisions that managed recently to sweep over a third of Laos in five weeks without a major battle.

French-Laoan troops, employing new tactics during the monsoon, are thrusting mobile columns deep into the jungles and mountains daily to look for remnants of the enemy which may have stayed behind. Communists reported no contact today with the Vietminh in Laos.

The defense zone has been established by patrols sweeping out from the Royal Laoit residence town of Luang Prabang, Pak Sane to the south on Thailand's border, Xiengkouang and the Plaine Des Jarres. These patrols frequently join up with each other at strategic points.

The Queen did not show up. Elizabeth and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, were represented by others in this trial run of the centuries-old religious ritual by which she will be spiritually dedicated next Tuesday to the tasks of her queenship.

But both have rehearsed privately and both are regarded as fully ready for the roles they must play on Coronation Day, rain or shine. The weather bureau forecast today it will be a day of occasional showers.

With the Duchess of Norfolk playing the part of the Queen and Sir Eric Mielville pinch-hitting for the Duke, the long rehearsal went off without a hitch. More than 1200 persons took part under the watchful eye of the Duke of Norfolk, who is directing the coronation as Earl Marshal.

EVEN IN ABBREVIATED form, the ritual lasted more than two hours. It is rich in the religious and secular imagery of a nation that has known both Saxon and Norman sovereigns and has gone through vast political and ecclesiastic changes. It is encrusted with the symbolism of ages.

The queen will be called upon for statements and responses, intricate movements around throne and in front of the altar, change of costume, the handling of marvellous objects.

President Eisenhower Meets Advisers On Plans to Reorganize Executive

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP) — President Eisenhower met with some of his top advisers today to go over plans for reshuffling the executive branch of the Government.

The luncheon meeting took place shortly after Representative Arends (R-Ill.) made public a letter from the President in which Eisenhower went to bat for one of his reorganization proposals, a plan to revamp the setup in the Defense department.

BRITAIN SENDS TOP GENERAL TO KENYA COLONY

ERSKINE GETS ORDERS TO STAMP OUT MAU MAU

LONDON, May 29 (AP)—Britain today ordered a top fighting general to trouble Kenya and gave him wide powers to wage an all-out military campaign against anti-white Mau Mau terrorists.

Lieut. Gen. Sir George Erskine, 53-year-old World War II veteran decorated for leadership in North African battles against German Gen. Erwin Rommel, will head a separate new East Africa command. It will be responsible directly to the War office in London.

The major military shakeup underscored Britain's determination to stamp out the murderous Mau Mau movement in the East African colony of Kenya. Mau Mau terrorists for many months have waged bloody guerrilla warfare against white settlers and pro-British tribesmen and have slaughtered several hundred persons, including ten whites.

The move established Kenya as second only to Malaya as a major theater of British military action against terrorists.

"GENERAL ERSKINE is charged with the conduct of all military measures required to restore law and order in Kenya," a War office announcement said. "For this purpose, he will exercise full command over all colonial, auxiliary, police and security forces in Kenya."

Queen Elizabeth II approved his appointment to the new command. He will have the temporary rank of full general and will leave for Kenya Thursday.

The Governor of Kenya will retain responsibility for the Government and administration of the colony.

The reorganization plan will go into effect next month unless a majority of either the Senate or House votes specifically to disapprove it.

Pierre Mendes-France Accepts Bid From Auriol to Form New Government

PARIS, May 29 (AP) — Deputy Premier was ousted May 21 on a Pierre Mendes-France, who vote of confidence over Mayer's believes military expenses must request for power to cut government budget sharply to give France mental expenses by decree.

A sound economy, today accepted an invitation from President Vincent Auriol to try to form a new French Government.

A 46-year-old Radical Socialist known as a financial and economic expert, he will go before the National Assembly next week, perhaps Wednesday, to seek investiture as premier.

The Radical Socialists, despite their name, form a middle-of-the-road party that draws much of its support from farmers and small businessmen. It is the party of Rene Mayer, whose coalition Government was ousted May 21 on a vote of confidence over Mayer's believes military expenses must request for power to cut government budget sharply to give France mental expenses by decree.

Mendes-France declared in a finance committee session yesterday: "The situation is graver than we have been told up to now" and demanded that the Nation be advised fully of the financial crisis that finds expenses exceeding income by billions of francs yearly. He will have a chance to do this in asking the Assembly to confirm his nomination for premier.

As a student of French economic affairs, Mendes-France has declared many times that a sound economy must be the starting point for the Nation's other efforts. To achieve a sound economy, he believes there must be a sharp cut in military expenses both at home and abroad.

Some of Mendes-France's statements have suggested a belief that an approach should be made for negotiation of an armistice in Indochina, where seven years of war have led only to a deadlock.

Memorial Day Observances Slated For Upper Perkiomen Area Residents

Memorial Day ceremonies in the Upper Perkiomen area will take place at 10 o'clock this morning at the New Goshenhoppen Reformed church cemetery, East Greenville.

Sponsored jointly by the Red Hill Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Perkiomen Post, American Legion, the ceremony will also include a parade.

Two Area Students Will Get Degrees at Muhlenberg College

Two area residents will receive their baccalaureate degrees during commencement exercises Monday at Muhlenberg college in Allentown.

The two include Evan S. Kranzley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kranzley of 211 Third Street, East Greenville, and Ray B. Nyce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Nyce, of 282 North Main street, Telford.

Kranzley is a graduate of the East Greenville High school and is a member of the Reformed church. He served with the Army Air Force and is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity at Muhlenberg.

Nyce is a graduate of Souderton High school and a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Both students will receive a Bachelor of Arts degrees.

Tourists to See Falls From Miniature Train

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., May 20.—Tourists here this summer will have a new attraction here this summer—a miniature, tractor-drawn "train" which will ride around the park beside the falls.

This is the idea of Sanford J. Morden, who has received a commission for the enterprise from the Niagara Frontier State Parks commission. He is building the three cars he'll use.

The "train" will be used over paths closer to the falls and rapids than an automobile can go, according to Morden. He says the three cars will carry a total of 36 passengers and will move slowly enough not to threaten pedestrian traffic.

Sites Chosen for Big Three Meeting

HAMILTON, Bermuda, May 20.—Castle Harbor hotel and the Mid-ocean club will be used as sites for the forthcoming big three conference.

Lt. Gen. Sir Alexander Hood, governor-general of Bermuda, said today the meeting of President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Churchill, and the French premier will not be held before June 15.

"Beyond that," he added, "we can't go any further. We just don't know ourselves."

He said an "intelligent guess" is that the conference may last four or five days, and possibly a week. From Eisenhower's statements, Sir Alexander said, "we take it that informality

Devotions will be held by The Rev. John S. Heim, pastor of the East Greenville-Hosensack Evangelical Congregational church. The program will be in charge of W. P. Loker, Legion commander, and James Snyder, VFW post commander.

PRIOR to services at the cemetery, a parade will be formed at the Legion Home on North Main street in East Greenville at 9 a. m.

Paraders will begin their march promptly at 9:30 o'clock, moving south on Main street to Third street and to the cemetery, a distance of one mile.

In the line of march will be the Red Hill band under the direction of Oliver K. Bernd, director, and the Upper Perkiomen High School band, under the direction of Robert Marshman.

Following the cemetery service, the parade will counter-march to the Legion Home, where refreshments will be served to all marchers.

Pastor Will Hunt For Lost Continent

HAMBURG, Germany, May 20.—A tenacious German village pastor is going to take to the North Sea again this summer and when he is done, he may end decades of argument over the story of the "lost Continent of Atlantis."

The Rev. Juergen Spanuth who has been trying to solve the riddle of Atlantis for the past 20 years, believes he may have found it—only it apparently was an island and not a continent.

People who think about Atlantis at all are likely to be violently for or against the idea of an entire continent—or great island—sunk suddenly beneath the seas in aeons past.

Pro-Atlanteans are often referred to as "Kitchen archaeologists" by professionals. But those who believe in its existence point to Plato, who told of Atlantis and its fabled people. Spanuth, who has poured over millions of words in his study of the puzzle, will direct divers in the North sea this summer.

OPENS CELEBRATION

HANOVER JUNCTION, May 20.—This York county community tonight opened its three-day Lincoln celebration with a display of pictures by Civil War photographer Matthew Brady.

will be preserved through the whole period.

Tentative plans, he added, call for the three heads of Government to stay at the Mid-ocean club, with both the club and hotel used for conference purposes. The hotel is on a high point overlooking the sea. The club with its golf course and the French premier will not be held before June 15.

Sir Alexander said security precautions are the responsibility of the Bermuda and home Government and no US troop will be used. Bermuda is a British colony favored as a resort by many Americans, especially honeymooners—and June, the month of the Big Three session, also is the honeymoon month.

Pottstown's Prides

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

Maroon metal awnings with a white stripe do a good job of breaking up the white area at this home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Myers at 819 North Adams street. Other decorative touches that they've added are the shrubbery, the globe left of the front door and the storm door with scrollwork on it. The house was built in 1950 by Kerstetter and Veach, a former partnership of Pottstown contractors.

Downstairs are the living room (left), kitchen, two bedrooms and bath. The unfinished upstairs has room for two more bedrooms. They painted and papered the house the past Spring. Myers works in Department 122 for Firestone Tire and Rubber company.

Conscience Pushes Man to Aid Birds

CHATTANOOGA, May 20.—G. C. Dykes has a real housing project in his back yard here, all because he killed some birds as a boy.

Seventy-eight couples make their homes there and all of the families are named Martin. They are the bird branch of the Martin family. The birds are all nesting in garrets suspended from two poles that Dykes put up after his conscience started bothering him years ago.

"When I was a kid, I killed quite a few birds," he says, "and for the past 26 years I have tried to make up for the birds I killed. I have spent hundreds of dollars on bird houses and boxes."

COURT CASES —

Jefferson and Mr. and Mrs. Laws are to be tried before Judge E. Arnold Forrest, also on Wednesday.

Calloway's trial is set for Tuesday, while Smith and Mae Bell McCalvin are to be tried Wednesday, all before Judge Dannehower.

Four Philadelphians will stand trial, accused of shoplifting men's suits from three Pottstown stores two weeks ago.

THESE DEFENDANTS are Howard Baker, Dorothy Baker, Lester Nelson and Lillian Johnson. Judge Dannehower is scheduled to hear their case Monday.

In the television case, Frank Roschitz, Philadelphia, is scheduled to be tried Thursday before Judge William F. Dannehower on a charge of stealing a TV set from St. John's Reformed church in broad daylight.

A woman living near the church reported to police that she had seen him walk out with the set and drive off with it.

In the dog case, William Fisher Jr., Hildale, is accused of maliciously killing a neighbor's dog with a pistol. Fisher was arrested by Lower Pottsgrove Police Chief Harry G. Church on the owner's complaint.

IT WILL BE HEARD Monday before Judge Corson, Pottstown Attorney William A. O'Donnell Jr. is representing Fisher.

Clarence Boyer, 321 High street, is accused of breaking into the apartment behind the Fifth Avenue Beauty shop at his address. He has claimed that he went there to fix faulty plumbing. He'll be represented by Pottstown Attorney Joseph L. Prince. The trial is set for Tuesday before Judge Dannehower.

Other Pottstown area de-

are expected to be the worst times of the weekend, as holiday drivers drive to and from their destinations.

Besides increased business because of the holiday, one ticket agent at the Reading terminal said many of the boys from The Hill school and the Pine Forge institute were jamming facilities by shipping trunks, suit cases and boxes to all part of the country.

THE REGULAR Sunday schedule will be in effect today and tomorrow, the agent said, with extra trains added only if and when conditions warrant them.

In preparation for the weekend, High street merchants yesterday reported healthy sales at their counters. Stores were open until 9 o'clock last night.

Cool weather cut down sales of beach wear considerably, however, some stores reported.

Veterans of three wars and members of seven veterans' organizations will take part in this morning's parade in Pottstown.

In the line of march, for which the Pottstown band under William F. Lamb Jr. will play, will be the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 780; American Legion Post 47; Amvets Post 23; Jewish War Veterans Post 363; Navy club, Ship 185; and Catholic War Veterans, Post 1663.

IN PLACE of honor will be the United States War veterans, Pottstown Camp 81.

The veterans will form at 9 o'clock at King and Franklin streets and march on King street to Adams street, south on Adams to High street and on High to the postoffice where a wreath will be placed on the Civil War memorial.

After a five-minute ceremony there, the procession will move west on High street to Hanover and up Hanover to Pottstown cemetery at Jefferson avenue.

There the Memorial service will be opened by chairman Leonard Rachid.

After Bugler Norman Lepper sounds assembly, the Flag of Freedom will be hoisted by Mahlon.

Pisa's Tower Draws Huge Tourist Trade

PISA, Italy, May 20.—The leaning tower of Pisa, which has been giving tourists cricks in the neck for 600 years, is at the top of her tipsy glory these days. For reasons pleased Pisans don't entirely understand, their tilting tower is drawing the biggest crowds of sight-seers in her history.

Visitors are jamming this city of 70,000 population so tightly it's hard to find a place to park a car.

Some drivers, intent on a view of the tower, park near the city outskirts and return to the center by horse-drawn carriage.

"Nothing like this has ever happened before," announced the Pisa tourist office, rubbing its hands.

PUC OKAYS PROJECT

HARRISBURG, May 20.—The Public Utility commission today authorized a $322,000 highway department traffic improvement in the Fisher Plaza area at the rear of the main State capitol building here.

Frick of the Legion and Earl W. Feight of the VFW.

THE REV. Dr. Luther A. Krouse, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church, will offer a prayer and presiding officer A. Emery Lord will welcome the assembly to the service.

The memorial address will be given by Edward T. Hall, headmaster of The Hill school.

Charles H. Harberger will read Logan's Memorial Day order, the Gettysburg address will be given by James Cresswell, and the band will play a selection.

William Palladino, officer of the day, will then place wreaths on the graves.

Services were conducted yesterday morning at the Pottstown Senior High school at 8:40 o'clock.

AFTER ISMAR Schorsch opened the services in the school auditorium, the High school band, under the direction of Lester Smith, played a selection.

Sandra Gibson gave a Bible reading and the group was led in the Lord's prayer by Principal Stanley I. Davenport Jr.

James Eschbach led the pledge to the flag and Edward Piernan, sergeant-at-arms of the Legion, presented the colors.

The Rev. Edgar S. Brown, pastor of Grace Lutheran church, then presented the Memorial address.

After Schorsch commented on "Taps," Lester Smith led the band in the National Anthem.

that will follow mass in Holy Trinity Catholic church. The Rev. Stephen Vleck, rector will be celebrant.

Powell said Haffert is rated one of the nation's finest speakers on Catholic subjects. The two organizations have been trying to arrange his appearance here for two years.

HAFFERT WILL be introduced by Paul Marchak, chancellor of Father Bally council, who is acquainted personally with him.

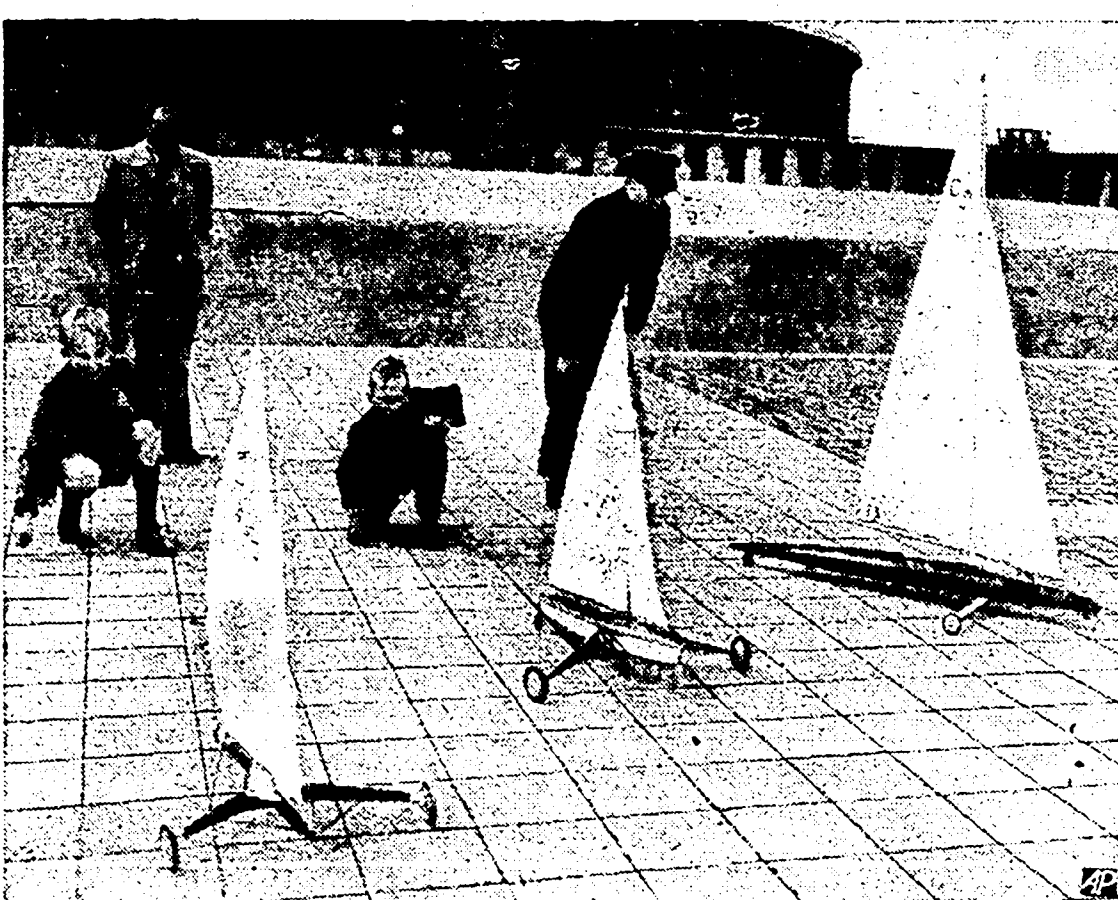

William O. Smith, grand knight, will be master of ceremonies. William Palladino, post commander, will be in charge of Memorial Day services on the program.

Holy Trinity choir will sing at the church services. The choir of St. Aloysius Catholic church will sing at the breakfast program.

Powell reported that Haffert is the only living layman in America who has talked to "Lucia," the surviving one of three children who saw Our Lady of Fatima when she appeared to them in Fatima, Portugal, and told them of the eventual conversion of Russia. He brought the original statue of Our Lady of Fatima to this country and spread the message heard by the children.

ON HAFFERT'S return to Portugal, Powell said, Haffert was given replicas of the statue which he has been instrumental in sending to Korea and even Russia. He spoke at ceremonies at Fatima closing the Holy Year.

The author of five books, he now is editor of Soul, a religious periodical, and is American national commander of the Blue Army, an organization with more than 1,000,000 signed members dedicated to the conversion of Russia, Powell asserted.

Memorial Day's Start... Pottstown's Hopes...

★ IN MEMORIAM—Pottstown thoughts will be entwined in flowers that will decorate cemeteries in 11 foreign countries and the United States today, as Americans honor the Nation's war dead on the 86th Memorial Day. For Pottstown hero dead 'are buried in hallowed ground around the world.

At 25 United States military and naval cemeteries in England, France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, Italy, North Africa, the Philippines, Mexico and Cuba, foreign friends will join in memorial ceremonies for American Servicemen. In Korea, where some 24,000 Americans have lost their lives, services will be held in the United Nations cemetery at Pusan.

FLOWERS ON THE WATER—

Special observances will be held at 97 national cemeteries in the states and territories as well as at four naval cemeteries and other scattered military and naval plots. Wherever there is a United States military post or naval vessel, flags will be flown at half-staff and a 21-gun salute fired. Flowers will be cast on the water to honor men lost at sea. Memorial Day, or Decoration Day, began after the Civil War. Seeing families and friends of individual war dead decorating graves of their loved ones, sympathetic fellow-Americans paid similar tribute to fallen heroes whose families did not appear.

★ SOUTHERN WOMEN in Vicksburg and Columbus, Miss., and Charleston, S. C., decorated Union as well as Confederate graves. Touched, Northerners responded with the same warm gesture, until all over the land, first flowers of Summer were spread reverently over the last resting places of American soldiers in organized community ceremonies. Maj. Gen. John A. Logan attended some of these services. When he became commander of the postwar Grand Army of the Republic, he remembered graves at Gettysburg, Petersburg and Carbondale banked with fragrant blossoms.

ISSUES ORDER—On May 5, 1863, he issued his famous order "that every post of the Grand Army should hold suitable exercises and decorate the graves of their dead comrades with flowers." Let no ravages of time testify to coming generations that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and undivided Republic." May 30, a time when flowers are at their best, was chosen as the date, and the focal point of the first official Memorial Day observance was Washington. Ambulances carried flowers to Arlington Cemetery from the Botanic Garden, the Treasury grounds, the President's conservatory and private gardens. Gen. U. S. Grant, presidential nominee, was in the stands, and Gen. James A. Garfield, then in Congress but later to become President, gave the oration.

★ NEW YORK, in 1873, was first to make Memorial Day a legal holiday. Rhode Island, Vermont and New Hampshire soon followed. Observed officially today in all but a few Southern states, May 30 has become a special remembrance day for relatives and friends as well as for the country's fighting men, and a time to decorate family graves. In the South, Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi mark April 26 as Confederate Memorial Day, while South Carolina observes it on May 10. Florida remembers on both April 26 and May 30 and North Carolina, on May 10 and May 30. Louisiana holds observances variously on April 26, May 30 and June 3.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

BARBER'S ITCH is due to an infection of the hair follicles, or the bearded region in men. This annoying disease is often one of the most chronic and difficult to treat.

The newer drugs, including the antibiotics, are giving us better success, however, in stubborn cases.

The most common areas of the skin to be affected by barber's itch are the cheeks, chin and neck.

The person usually complains of burning, itching and pain over the areas of infected hair follicles.

Little pimples and pus blisters are seen over the hair region of the face. Usually the hair pierces the pimples or blisters.

The hair may also be lost where the infection occurs and many crusts may form on the skin. In some cases, there may be permanent spotty losses of hair.

This infection is caused by a germ, one of the staphylococcus type of bacteria.

It is also believed that certain cases may be brought on by inadequate diet, or allergies to certain foods, such as chocolate or nuts.

Many men give up shaving when they develop this disease. It is better to continue daily shaving at this time. A sharp, clean razor should be used.

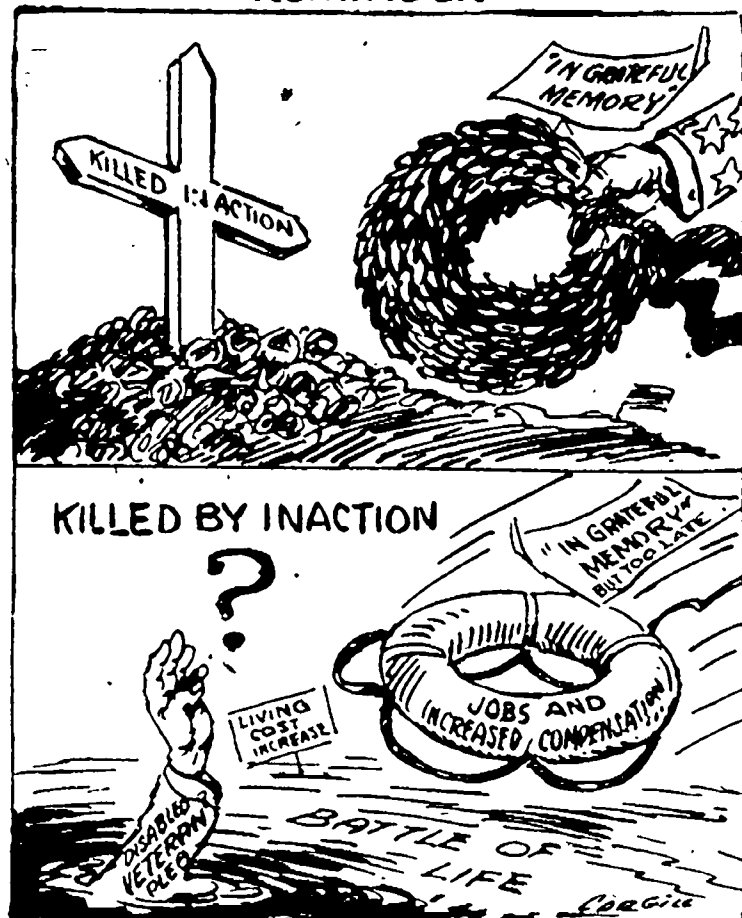

A shaving cream containing a drug known as hexachlorophene is usually helpful.

One of the newer antibiotic creams applied every morning and evening is also a help, at times. Of course, these should be used only under the physician's directions.

In certain cases when no other drugs work, antibiotics can be taken in large doses by mouth or injection and may clear up the infection.

The new antibiotic known as erythromycin, which acts much like penicillin, is particularly helpful in these difficult cases. Very few undesirable effects follow the use of this drug.

Constant medical care is needed to control adequately this chronic skin infection, and there should be no delay in seeking treatment for it.

HOLLYWOOD, May 29—George Jessel says there's a sign posted at the entrance of the Friar's Club reading: "Members are cautioned not to play cards with members!"

(?)... Wanda Hendrix, finis with "Tale of Two Cities," is vacationing at Miami beach. ... Eleanor Carney, ex-wife of comic Alan Carney, and Alan Wilson, well-known writer, are eloping to Las Vegas momentarily. ... Eve Arden and her husband, Brooks

West, are delirious with joy on account of the new baby boy they've adopted, just delivered to them. Betty Hutton is holding forth on a Chicago stage (someone wrote it was "safer to review her act from behind a post!") but she's wanted at 20th-Fox for a rip-roarin' western, "Last Man in Wagon Mound." She's reading the script—and it may tempt the Hutton-ton, for her role would resemble Betty's humdinger in "Annie Get Your Gun."

JORGE GUINLE, the fabulously rich Brazilian, is here with his beautiful wife, entertaining and being entertained like mad. Jorge is also working up a lot of good-will—and a fancy list of film stars to attend his country's big film festival next year. The Guinles gave a dinner party and had Tony Martin and Cyd Charisse, Greer Garson, Jeanne Crain and Paul Brinkman, Loretta Young and Tom Lewis, the Ricardo Montalban, the Jeff Hunters among their 20 guests. Then they took the whole crowd to Mocambo. Ricardo Montalban is again a "candidate" for the see-sawing "Student Prince." If he gets it, he'll be "singing" with Mario Lanza's voice! As we've mentioned, Metro at this point, plans using the recordings Mario's already made for this picture—no matter who plays the part!

PLEASANT TO REPORT is the 50th wedding anniversary of Ricardo's parents to be celebrated in great style June 10. Their folks will come from all over the USA, Spain and Mexico to meet in Mexico for family festivities on that extra-special day! Ricardo was ever heard—at a party we attended few nights ago. ... Sick-Bay! Lovely Anne Francis fell down and broke a bone in her foot. As a result she'll hobble around with one "pedal pusher" in a plaster cast for at least three weeks. ... After a siege of lumbago (how unromantic can things get???) Rita Hayworth, who'd planned to sail, instead hops a plane for Hawaii. She'll catch up with the rest of the "Sadie Thompson" company already there and waiting for Rita to start shooting.

Storm Sewers Needed

Need for Storm Sewers

To the Editor: The photographs in The Mercury yesterday made it very clear to everyone that there are places in Pottstown where more storm sewers are needed. If it didn't, they can look in my basement, where water backed up from one of them.

In this day and age, a man's lawn shouldn't be ruined and his cellar flooded every time we have a heavy rain. The borough is going to have to put in new storm sewers some time.

Why don't they do it now?

Only 'Hips' Are Cool

To the Editor: Let's get one thing straight. This business of being a "cool cat" certainly doesn't involve knowing the life history, etc., of all the jazz musicians.

Most of these alleged "cool cats" don't know what's happening musically any more than a three-year-old child. Ask one of these drug store hoboes who Charlie Parker is, or who won the Metronome "poll" on trumpet for the last couple of years.

In most cases I'll guarantee that all you'll get for an answer is a disdainful (and stupid) look. These "cats" don't know what's happening. Don't let them put you on.

It's the hip cats who really make the swinging scene. There's a big difference.

WASHINGTON GOP Chairman Scouting 1954 Senate Elections

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, May 29—In his very first scouting on Republican chances of retaining control of Congress in the 1954 elections, National Chairman Leonard W. Hall has run into unexpected difficulties. His early-bird work so soon after becoming the party's generalissimo is accounted for by the interest which the supposedly non-political President Eisenhower shows in next year's judgment of his record.

The GOP must re-elect 11 incumbents facing the voters in order to preserve its one-man margin in the Senate. It must defeat several sitting Democrats in order to gain a firmer grip on the upper chamber, which must ratify foreign agreements, underwrite financial advances to our allies and approve diplomatic appointments. It is this body—the men like McCarthy, Bridges and Ferguson—which has given most embarrassment to the White House in the foreign field.

Republican prospects are not too bright. Four men on their side may have trouble. They are Senators Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, Robert C. Hendrickson of New Jersey and Homer Ferguson of Michigan.

On the other hand, the only Democrats who appear to be vulnerable are Senators Paul H. Douglas of Illinois and Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota. The other opposition members, up for reelection occupy fairly safe seats.

HAS NEGLECTED MAIL: Senator Saltonstall's predicament has all the elements of surprise and drama. "Salty" bears a famous New England name to which Bay State voters are partial, including the Boston Irish. He has the Beacon Hill background of the Lodges and Cabots. He came to Washington with advance notices that he was another quiet, ironic and picturesque Calvin Coolidge. Ordinarily, he should be a shoo-in next year.

But he has not lived up to the political advertisements, although he now heads the Armed Services committee. A more practical handicap is that he has neglected his constituents' mail and bread-and-butter demands.

It was this carelessness which contributed to the defeat of Henry Cabot Lodge the past year on the same day that Ike romped through the state from Boston to the Berkshires. In short, Saltonstall and Lodge forgot that a Senator must be an errand boy as well as a statesman, a servant as well as a leader.

APPRENTICE'S LESSON: Ironically, a young shock-haired slip of a politician, who first ran for public office last year, has taught an elementary lesson in practical statesmanship to the distinguished 60-year-old Saltonstall. He did not have to tutor Chairman Hall, who knows all the tricks and will use them next year. This master at high and humble politics is Sen. John Fitzgerald Kennedy, son of the former Ambassador to England and 1952 victor over Lodge. Kennedy's forte is also foreign affairs. His book, "Why England Slept," furnishes an excellent insight into why Hitler achieved such striking military triumphs in the early years of World War II.

But this concern has not kept him from giving attention to everyday economic problems that beset Yankeland, especially the emigration of textile and other industries from this original citadel of manufacture to the New South. He has led the movement for Congressional or Federal action to restore the economic balance between the two sections.

Let's Have Action!

To the Editor: I wonder what's holding up the campaign on ticks and mosquitoes!

They've authorized the purchase of the fog machine last week. If they don't get after this thing soon the Summer will be over and then they can devote their efforts to snow removal.

I've been bitten so often by mosquitoes I feel like a punch board. There's no need for this delay. They talk and talk and talk, but there's never any action.

Let's get on the ball before the bugs drive us all buggy.

PUNCHED PUNCHLESS

There's no Tieup

To the Editor: I was glad to see that article in The Mercury answering the people who blamed our erratic weather on atomic bomb explosions.

The weather has been strange, all right, but the atomic commission denies particles resulting from blasts can cause rain.

Powerful as the biggest bomb may be, Mother Nature packs a much more powerful wallop. Even a moderate-sized hurricane has the energy of a thousand atomic bombs.

The U.S. Weather bureau says it has found no evidence that atomic explosions affect climate over any sizeable area. So you scoffers can put that in your pipe and smoke it.

PEGGY O., was an efficient office stenographer in Columbus, Ohio.

"Help, help, Dr. Crane," she implored. "In a short time a sailor is going to get a leave and come home to me. From the tone of his letters, I know he is going to say, 'All right, now let's get married.'"

"And I shall gladly say 'Yes.' But honestly, Dr. Crane, I won't understand the first thing about marital relations and all the other sex problems that I should know.

"What I really need is a primer, so to speak. I must learn the very A-B-C's of it all.

"Of course, I know that the stork doesn't bring babies, but not much more.

A FEW YEARS ago Dr. Horace B. English of the psychology department at Ohio State university, tried to ridicule our readers and me by writing in the school newspaper about how simple-minded people fall for the boasting of self-advertising psychologists (or alleged psychologists) who pretend that they can tell, in a ten-cent pamphlet or in a book or in a newspaper column, how to get rid of an inferiority complex or how to become a glamorous partner in marital relations.

If you think you don't get your dime's worth in any of my medical or psychological bulletins, you are free to return them. Neither your editor nor I receives a penny from any of these educational materials, anyway.

Ask him why Ohio State graduates flood me with mail if he and his "alleged" psychology colleagues have prepared you for solving the real problems of psychological adjustment.

ETHEL SMITH just ran into the most unusual problem. She had a top Shubert Alley writer knock off several pages of special material for the new musical comedy she'll introduce during her July stint at the Moulin Rouge in Paris, but the whole thing will have to be rewritten. Ethel will be doing the act in French, and when the script is translated into French, it's simply too naughty for Paris audiences! (No, I can't figure it out, either!)

Disciple Teaches Corinthian Church To Follow in Way of Christian Love

The Golden Text

The Student Christian—Statue by Daniel C. French at Princeton University.

"Now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; and the greatest of these is love."—1 Corinthians 13:13.

Scripture—1 Corinthians 12-13.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

OUR LESSON assignment today comprises two of the most beautiful and helpful compositions in the New Testament. We know from previous lessons that the church in the great city of Corinth was far from harboring a spirit of brotherly love.

There was strife there, lawsuits were brought by brother against brother. There were schisms, jealousies, immorality, boastfulness. The church certainly needed Paul's lesson of love.

In all the centuries since Paul's time there have been bitter divisions in Christian churches. The same faults that marred the Corinthian church have often been disrupting influences in the churches of today.

Disagreements over the interpretation of our Holy Bible; over church doctrine and practices—jealousies, quarrels of many kinds, are often ripe. Every minister in every Christian church might well devote one sermon a year to the 13th chapter of 1 Corinthians, to remind members of what Christian love means.

Our commentator devotes his words to the 13th chapter of our lesson, but I think lessons are to be learned also from the 12th chapter, where Paul points out that each person is gifted in a different way.

"There are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit. And there are differences of administrations, but the same Lord. And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God which worketh all in all."

Some have the gift of wisdom. Paul writes: to another faith is given; to another gifts of healing; to another the working of miracles; to another the gift of prophecy; to still another a gift of "diverse kinds of tongues."

Paul points out that no one need be envious of another because the latter has a different gift than himself. As all the parts of our bodies are necessary to us, but constitute a single body, so all the gifts of the various members of a church are necessary to the proper functioning of that body.

If we each use the gifts bestowed upon us—working faithfully, day by day to do our best, the business executive, the machinist, the laborer, the career woman, or housekeeper need not envy, or be puffed up either about his or her position in life. Each is contributing his or her bit to help make the world a pleasant place in which to live.

"But covet earnestly the best gifts; and yet shew I unto you a more excellent way," Paul ends the 12th chapter of this epistle. The better way is love.

"Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not love, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal."

"And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries and all knowledge, and have not love, I am nothing."

"Though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and give my body to be burned, and have not love, it profiteth me nothing."

"Love suffereth long, and is kind; love envieth not; love vaunteth not itself, is not easily provoked; thinketh no evil; doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil; rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth; beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things."

"Love never faileth; but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away."

"When I was a child, I spake as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things," writes Paul.

Childish things—are not envy, jealousy, hatred, peevishness, childish things that we grow out of as we grow to physical adulthood? And are not these the faults we should help our children to outgrow?

"And now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; but the greatest of these is Love."

Members of church congregations might well read and reflect on those words of Paul's, and forget their differences, settling them in love rather than aggressiveness.

Disputes between married couples might end happily if they remembered the words of Paul, "Love suffereth long and is kind; doth not behave itself unseemly."

Parents who chide or punish their children would probably get better results if they too remembered that "Love never faileth."

The Way of Christian Love

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

"Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not love, I am become as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal."—1 Corinthians 13:1.

"And though I have the gift of prophecy and understand all mysteries and all knowledge, and have not love, I am nothing."—1 Corinthians 13:2.

"Though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and give my body to be burned, and have not love, it profiteth me nothing."—1 Corinthians 13:3.

"Love suffereth long and is kind; love envieth not; love vaunteth not itself, is not easily provoked; thinketh no evil."

I am the Lord; that is My name; and My glory will I not give to another, neither My praise to graven images. —(Isaiah XLIII, 8.)

The 'graven images' that so many of us seem unceasingly to be praising in thought and action these days are not of stone—rather they are the material symbols of fleeting security, comfort, leisure and pleasure. Once we get them we are still unhappy. It is only through living in the Lord, serving and praising Him, that true happiness can be found.

THE MOMENT OF ACHIEVEMENT

Four minutes to four by the Chapel clock. Four years of effort now crowned with success. This is the moment of achievement.

Three minutes to four. The illusion begins to fade. Here, outside the ivy-covered walls the future looms more important than the past.

Two minutes to four. A sense of fear. Can a diploma guarantee happiness through all the years to come?

One minute to four. Futility! Education can't insure happiness. Life is a succession of uncertainties.

Four solemn strokes of the Chapel clock. The Chapel clock! There is life's one Certainty... God! And with divine Love rewarding human faith, who need fear the uncertainties of life or doubt to find happiness under God.

Years of education are no substitute for minutes of spiritual searching. Diplomas are important, but the discovery of Faith is the real moment of achievement.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of a character and good citizenship. It is a house of spiritual values, a democracy, not a dictatorship. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend the Church. They are (1) for his own sake (2) for his family's sake (3) for the sake of the community and nation (4) for the sake of the Church itself. When you hear this moral and spiritual appeal, please go to the Church regularly and read your Bible.

Local Churches to Observe Trinity Sunday Tomorrow

Some Lutheran Groups to Commune; Others to Hold Memorial Observance

Trinity Sunday will be observed in Pottstown churches with Communion services and appropriate devotions tomorrow.

In several Lutheran churches, new members confirmed a week ago on Pentecost will commune for the first time at the morning service.

In other places of worship the day will be observed as Memorial Sunday, coming as it does one day after the holiday.

The Festival of the Trinity dates from the 14th century, when it became a special feast in Catholic churches of the Latin rite.

It commemorates the commissioning of the Apostles, when Jesus commanded them to teach all nations, "baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost."

LOCAL CHURCHES in which confirmations will commune for the first time tomorrow include Grace and Transfiguration Lutheran, St. John's Lutheran, South Pottstown, and New Hanover Lutheran.

Full Festal Communion will be celebrated at St. John's Lutheran at 10:45 a. m. The Sacrament will also be administered there at 8 a. m.

The Rev. George F. Eichorn, St. John's pastor, will present each new member with two gifts at the 10:45 o'clock service—a New Testament on behalf of the church and a Communion Service book from the Sunday school.

At Transfiguration Lutheran, where seven new members will commune for the first time with the congregation, the Rev. Eugene B. Umberger, pastor, will be assisted by the Rev. Joseph W. Insee, Philadelphia.

"RELIGION of the Spirit," will be the theme of the sermon to be preached by the Rev. Umberger at the 10:45 a. m. service. The Rev. Insee will help administer Communion and conduct the devotional portion of the service. Transfiguration members will have another opportunity to par-

Prayer for The Week IN MEMORIAM

Open our eyes, O Lord, to more than what we see written on this tomb, the grave of a gallant soldier, who died for a cause reflecting Thy Kingdom.

Open our eyes O Lord, Reveal to us through the dead, that Thy Kingdom is everlasting.

That the dead fell not on the battlefield in vain.

That we, the living, weep not for a lost cause.

CHURCH TO NOTE MEMORIAL DAY

Program Will Include Pilgrimage and Addresses

As part of its Memorial Day observance, the Palm Schwenkfelder church will hold special services tomorrow.

In accordance with the annual program, a pilgrimage to the old meeting house grounds will begin at Kraussdale Schwenkfelder meeting house at 1:30 p. m.

Guest speaker at the gathering will be Wilbur Kriebel of Chester, secretary of the general conference of the Schwenkfelder church in America.

Following the talk, the pilgrimage will continue to the Hosensack Schwenkfelder meeting house grounds at 2:30 p. m., where Elton N. Miller, of Powder Valley, will address the group.

THE REV. Harvey K. Heebner, pastor of the Philadelphia Schwenkfelder mission, will bring the program to a close at the Washington meetinghouse grounds. He will deliver the concluding message.

Church chorister Paul S. Bieler, of East Greenville, will be in charge of the congregational singing. The pastor, the Rev. Lester K. Kriebel, will preside at the respective meetings.

A father and daughter from Pennsylvania were graduated from Allentown Bible college at the same time yesterday morning.

They are Dr. Whildin A. Reese, 581 Main street, Pennsylvania, and Nancy Grace, his daughter.

Dr. Reese, who is a dentist, was graduated from the college's school of theology, while Nancy Grace was graduated as valedictorian of the college's High school division.

The father studied theology at the Bible school in his time away from the office. In 1950 he became a staff member at the college and since then has taught there, part time at first and full time more recently.

HE WAS ELECTED to the honorary society the past term.

The daughter attended Pennsylvania High school for her freshman year and was a member of the student council there.

In the past three years at the Allentown school she has majored in music, and has sung soprano solos with college musical organizations.

She will enter West Chester State Teachers college on September 3.

HE'LL GRADUATE—Cadet Douglas G. Waters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don M. Waters, 305 High street, will be graduated on Tuesday from the U. S. Military academy, West Point, N. Y. at the climax of June Week activities there. A sergeant in the Corps of Cadets for the past year, Cadet Waters has also been active in the policy committee, the Cadet Chapel choir and the sailing club, of which he has been president and treasurer. A graduate of the Pottstown Junior High school and The Hill school, he will receive a Bachelor of Science degree and will be commissioned a second lieutenant of anti-aircraft artillery.

New Goshenhoppen's Rev. DeLong Will Observe 50th Year of Tenure

The golden anniversary of the late Joseph S. DeLong and Mary DeLong, pastor of the New Goshenhoppen Reformed church, East of McKeesburg, Schuylkill county, Greenville, will be commemorated three years after being installed as pastor of the New Goshenhoppen church.

In the afternoon, between 3 and 5 o'clock, a reception in honor of Dr. DeLong and his half-century of ministry will be held in the Sunday school rooms. Both Dr. and Mrs. DeLong will be present.

A general invitation was extended to members of the congregation and friends to call sometime during the reception.

The golden anniversary sermon at the morning service will be preached by the Rev. Charles E. Schaeffer, DD, STD, of Philadelphia.

SPECIAL MUSIC will be provided by the church and chapel choirs. The church choir will sing.

REV. C. M. DeLONG

"Hosanna! Blessed is He," and the choir will sing, "I Will Lift up Mine Eyes."

"All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" will be the title of the processional hymn. The offertory hymn will be "Thy Word is a Light," and the recessional hymn, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past."

Sunday will mark, to a day, the 50th year of the ordination and installation of Dr. DeLong as pastor of New Goshenhoppen.

Dr. DeLong's pastorate exceeds by two decades the next longest pastorates, those of Dr. Daniel and Dr. Clement Z. Weiser, father and son, who served approximately 30 years each.

DR. D. WEISER served the church from 1835 to 1864, while Dr. C. Weiser's pastorate took place from 1862 to 1893. Only one pastorate intervened between that of the younger Weiser and Dr. DeLong's, that of the Rev. George B. Walbert, 1893 to 1902.

Born July 7, 1876, in Berks county, Dr. DeLong is a son of the

Bible Words to Live by

JOHN 8:12—"Again Jesus spoke to them, saying, 'I am the light of the world; he who follows me will not walk in darkness, but will have the light of life.'"

This statement of Jesus is to me a source of quiet confidence. No one wants to walk in darkness. In my boyhood days I reasoned: I am not afraid of darkness, but I do not want to walk in it lest I encounter some unseen danger. Moreover, my desire was to go forward surely, confidently. Therefore, I wanted light.

But light and darkness with Jesus are figures of speech for significant spiritual realities. Even as a boy I knew this. And in the realm of the spirit, also, I wanted to walk in the light.

When, therefore, the words, "I am the light of the world," came as "addressed" to me, I was ready to listen. And when Jesus said, "He who follows me will not walk in darkness," I was ready to follow. In following, He became real to me, and through the years I have known increasingly that He is Himself the Light of life and the Light of the world.

Exports of Rice Seen By Philippine Business

SINGAPORE, May 29 (AP)—The Philippines is looking forward to the day when she will, like Thailand, be able to export rice to surrounding deficit Asian countries.

V. R. Concepcion, assistant general manager of the National Rice and Corn corporation and Filipino delegate to the Rice Consultative committee conference, said here: "We have progressed from a rice importing country to a self-supporting country with a reasonable rice surplus."

If Arizona continues its present rate of population increase, the number of people in the state will double in 15 years.

BUT CAN IT BE FOUND IN THE BIBLE?

People often indignantly demand that Catholics prove their teaching from the Bible.

The Bible is their "rule of faith" and they argue that every man has the right and ability to discover for himself, by his interpretation of the Bible, what he must believe and do in order to be saved.

We do not question the sincerity of these people and we applaud all who strive earnestly to understand and observe the Scriptures. But—are they right in calling the Bible, privately interpreted, the sole source of Christian teaching?

"Hold the teachings that you have learned," wrote St. Paul, "whether by word or by letter of ours" (2 Thess. II:15). He refers to Christian teachings, some oral, some written... and demands that all be received.

Christianity did not begin with the Bible. It began with the coming of Christ. The Lord instructed His Apostles to "go forth... teach all nations"—and to insure that His truths would always be maintained, Christ established His Church, "... the pillar and mainstay of the truth" (1 Timothy III:15).

The last part of the Bible... written by St. John... was not completed until 60 years after the Crucifixion of Christ. There was no Bible in anything resembling its present form until nearly 400 years after Jesus had died on the Cross. And the widespread distribution of the Bible as we know it today was impossible until the invention of printing, some 1400 years after the Savior's death.

By what "rule of faith" did the millions of Christians live during those 1500 years?

The answer is, of course, that the teaching of the Church was the rule of faith for the Christian world. And St. Paul reminds us that Christianity consists of "one Lord, one Faith, one Baptism" (Eph. IV:5). "God is a God of peace, not of disorder," St. Paul said further (1 Cor. XIV:33).

Yet today we have nearly 300 different religious denominations in the United States, all calling themselves Christian... all professing the Bible as their rule of faith... and all differing to some extent or another in their understanding of what the Bible means. Could Christ have left a "rule of faith" that would permit such confusion? Would He have left the interpretation of His Word to the fallible and changing judgments of men—when our very souls depend on a correct understanding and observance of the things Christ has taught us?

Because this question is all important... because it certainly does matter what a man believes... we invite you to examine the rule of faith of the first Christians—a rule that is still maintained by the Catholic Church. Because the Bible is God's Word, and because He gave it to us for a purpose, we invite you to see what this purpose is. We have an interesting pamphlet on the correct use of the Bible, and we offer it for the inspection of all who are sincerely interested in following the teaching of Christianity as Christ revealed it. Ask for Pamphlet No. 13—KC.

Two church members plant corn on "The Lord's Acres Project."

Congregation Raises Crops to Boost Church Treasury; Idea Is Spreading

By A. VERNON DAVIS
(Central Press Correspondent)

HAGERSTOWN, Md., May 29.—Members of some of the rural churches in this neck of the woods have started raising crops to boost their church treasuries and the idea is spreading like wildfire.

"The Lord's Acres Project" is what the Broadfording church of the Brethren near this western Maryland community calls its farm program this year.

Everybody, including the housewives and the preacher himself, have a part to play.

"I make it a point to ride at least once a day on each of the tractors that are at work," said Rev. Francis P. Litten, as he leaned against the wire fence and scanned the bustling horizon full of tractors.

ON THAT particular day there were 14 tractors at work—plowing one part of the farm, harrowing another section, and planting corn on still another tract.

Members of the Broadfording church are growing wheat and corn this year for the benefit of their church building fund. Thirty-five acres have been planted in corn and another 30 acres is well underway with a winter wheat crop planted last fall.

All the churchmen are familiar with farming methods, and they are donating their work, and often their tractors and gasoline for the cause.

The Hartle Farm, which they are using, is being farmed "on the half." At the end of the harvest the crops will be sold and half the proceeds goes to the church.

REV. FRANCIS P. LITTEN

and the other half to the farmer owning the land.

Ladies of the parish are doing their share, too. They prepare home cooked meals for the men-folk.

RESIDENT ACTS ON EXEMPTIONS

Trooper Woman Protests Allowing Exceptions To Ordinance

A Trooper resident has started action through a Pottstown attorney to prevent the granting of exemptions from a 1952 ordinance by Lower Providence township supervisors.

Mrs. Kenneth Smith, 2927 First avenue, Trooper, through attorney Louis Sager, has protested the setting aside of Ordinance 4 in individual cases.

The ordinance requires that new buildings be set at least 30 feet apart to insure proper sanitation and prevent pollution of springs in the community, which is under jurisdiction of the township.

According to Mrs. Smith's claim, the supervisors granted exemption from the ordinance to the owner of property adjoining hers, so that a house could be erected four feet from the property line, or 21 feet from her house.

SHE SAID that when the protest reached the supervisors, they had the adjoining property owner stop construction, leaving an excavation that is now filled with water and a hazard to small children in the area.

Attorney Sager said last night that he would attempt to have Trooper citizens lodge protests at the next meeting of the supervisors on June 8 at the home of Allen Buckwalter, one of the supervisors.

34 Century Club Women Return After 2-Day Visit in Washington D.C.

Time (6 a. m.) and weather (drenching rain) were against them, but 34 Century club members boarded their bus Tuesday morning for Washington D. C. and returned Thursday evening after their two days in the capital.

Still damp and a bit sleepy, the women arrived at noon at Constitution hall for the 62nd convention of the General Federation of Women's clubs—just in time to miss an address by Mamie Eisenhower.

They were greeted by Mrs. John Barlow, Century president, who was the group's delegate to the international convocation which lasted from Monday through Friday.

Tuesday evening's session, the Pottstown group voted, was the most interesting one they attended. Mrs. Oscar A. Ahlgren, national president of the federation, set the theme as "emphasis on youth."

Opening activities was a procession by the federation's executive committee, state junior chairmen, Girl Scouts and Camp Fire girls. After the flag salutation, Mrs. Arthur S. Crom, director of Junior Woman's clubs, gave the Junior Clubwoman's prayer.

Girl Scout Sylvia Simons recited the Scout promise and Tonia Runyan intoned the Camp Fire Girl's credo.

First speaker was District Judge Luther W. Youngdahl, former governor of Minnesota, who deplored the irreligious attitude of public schools in a talk titled "Youth, Our Greatest Resource."

Ex-Screenmoppet Mary Pickford, now associate national chairman for the sale of the US savings bond drive, spoke on "Women's Contribution to Security of the Nation" and asked for aid in making the bond campaign a success.

Highlight of the evening was the on-the-scene presentation of television's "The Big Issue" with the question "Is Communism a Real Danger in Our Colleges?"

Yale law professor Dr. Fowler Harper drew boos and hisses from the delegates, the Century women said, for his stand that Communists—openly—should be permitted to teach in American universities.

"I want my children," he pointed out, "to study in a college where both ideas are taught—I believe enough in democracy to have confidence that it would win out."

Suppression of free thought, he continued, is a quality of Communism, not of democracy. And to oppose Marxism intelligently, the student must know what it is and see where in like its fallacies.

Ignorance is the most fertile ground for Red ideas, he said. Taking the opposite stand was

University of Southern California student Robert Munger, who alleged that of the mere "10 percent" of USC undergraduates who had "any interest" in politics, "practically all" are Communists or Socialists.

Munger is founder and director of Students for America.

Martha Rountree was moderator. Century club women, during part of each day, toured various historic buildings, including the White House, Capitol, Smithsonian institute, Lincoln Memorial, Arlington cemetery and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

In the Senate, they heard Sens. Kerr and Russell debate on the reorganization of the Department of Agriculture, and in the House, they listened to debating on the Southern states' flood control bill.

Before leaving for Pottstown, the group presented Mrs. Barlow with an orchid.

Arrangements for the trip were handled by Mrs. Frank Anderson and Mrs. Thomas S. Storm.

Trekkers included: Jean W. Bassett, Mrs. Roy Binder, Louise Carr, Mrs. Donald S. Cochran, Mrs. Earl Custer, Mrs. David D. Detar, Mrs. C. Raymond Eppheimer and Mrs. J. Stanley Gates.

Mrs. Samuel N. Harner, Mary Hornberger, Mrs. A. Leroy Krause, Mrs. Arthur Kepner, Mrs. Thomas W. Kressley, Mrs. Richard G. Leh, Mrs. Earl Levegood, Mrs. Walter G. Lord and Mrs. Hugh McDevitt.

Nieman, Maude Ockerman, Mrs. Carson C. Potter, Mrs. E. M. Rhoads, Mrs. Richard Scheffey, Mrs. Levi Stein, Mrs. William Shaner and Mrs. Harry C. Shope, Mrs. Eugene S. Smith, Mrs. George D. Smith, Mrs. Anthony Spatziani, Mrs. Robert W. Spotts, Mrs. Thomas Storm, Emma Tyson, Mrs. Russell R. Tyson and Mrs. Stella Morrison, Mrs. Walter R. Jack Wennersten.

The Hill Headmaster Speaks at Wyndcroft Graduation

Edward T. Hall, headmaster of The Hill school, addressed the graduates of the Wyndcroft school at their closing exercises Thursday.

He likened life to a baseball game, stating that "striking out can be the result of bad judgment or no effort on the part of the player."

"Life as a game," he said, "has its good and bad breaks and one must learn to take the breaks as they come."

He cautioned the graduating class to think about doing things the right way and not to fix their minds on the wrong means, for the power of suggestion is great.

When they go on to other schools, Mr. Hall warned the students to avoid errors and to learn from errors that are committed.

"Don't get angry and don't let anything get you down," he concluded.

The Rev. Martin J. Brinton said the opening prayer.

Greetings from the school were delivered by Judith S. Gochnaur. Barbara J. Feroe delivered the graduation address.

Headmaster Carlisle Snively made awards to the seniors.

Daniel Wolf was the recipient of the field day cup, as captain of the Blue team.

Awards for excellence in athletics went to Judith Gochnaur and Daniel Wolf.

Current events prize went to George C. Whiteley 5d. Wyndcroft cup was won by Daniel Wolf.

Mary Anne Roberts and Wilbert O'Dell were judged to be the students who had made the greatest progress.

Raymond H. Piersol, president of the school's board of governors, presented school certificates to the graduating pupils.

They are Barbara Joan Feroe, George Roland Glavis, Judith Sands Gochnaur and Daniel Howard Wolf.

Wyndcroft school issued its honor roll for the year. Those winning highest honors with an A average are:

Grade eight: Barbara Feroe and Judith Gochnaur.

Grade six: Mary Ellie Jones, Thomas Snively, Carol Weber and Marcia Ziegler.

Grade five: Patricia Piersol, Mary Anne Roberts, Anita Stone and Phyllis Wepsie.

Grade four: Pamela Charles, Carol Glavis, Marilyn Prince and Lois Roberts.

Grade three: James Frederick, Larlene Hoffman, Alice Marshall, Bonnie Piersol, Jill Pollock and Barbara Shade.

Grade two: Barbara Berger.

Elizabeth Feroe, Donald Jones, Keith Jones, Leslie Maloney, Elizabeth McCaslin, Patricia Sanders, Jared Thomas and Diane Yergey.

Grade one: Malcolm Beiman, Sharon Houck, Lisa Longaker, Holmes Baker and John Storb.

Receiving second honors with a B average were:

Grade eight: Daniel Wolf.

Grade seven: Frederick Shade and George Whiteley.

Grade six: Jay Berman, Gregory Frederick, Robert Jeffries, Charles Marshall, Kathryn O'Donnell, Susan Rafferty and Jacklyn Schneider.

Grade five: Judith Berman, James Elliott, Barry Jones and Miriam Marcy.

Grade four: John Brinton, Ann Collander, Linda Tibb, David Glavis, Bruce Gould, Wilbert O'Dell, Thomas Reider, Jan Seldombridge, Virginia Warner, Robert Wolf, Harold Yergey and Robert Yoder.

Grade three: David LeGrande, Gerald McGinley and Richard Smith.

Grade two: Christine Dencler, Leah Beth Hoffman, Dorothy Lookinsbill, William O'Donnell, James Schmidt and John Ziegler.

Grade one: Mary Dolan, Carol Jones, Sara Lemont, Eliza Marshall, Thomas McCaslin, Suzanne Snyder, Donna Thompson and Jonathan Wells.

Pottstown Hospital Nursing School Alumnae Present Minstrel Show Featuring Songs, Jokes, Dances and Skits in Junior High

"Rainbow Minstrels" was presented by the Pottstown hospital nurses' alumnae at the Junior High school, Thursday night.

"How D'ye Do?" was the opening chorus presented by the entire company. It was followed by "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" and "When You Were a Tulip."

Anna Mae Pollock performed "Dance Me Loose" as a specialty number. Dolores Landis also did a specialty number.

And audience participation song, "I Love to Whistle," was done with the endmen and the chorus.

Finale of Act One was Jean Keitz singing, "That Lucky Old Sun," and "Doan' What Comes Naturally."

Endmen road children around on their bicycles during the first intermission.

"What Color is Whitewash?" was acted out by Anna Mae Pollock and Pauline Lindauer for the second act.

Snapshots were taken of the audience during the second intermission.

"In the Evening by the Moonlight" staged by the entire company opened Act 3.

Strychnine and Celeste Pauly did a specialty act. Rainbow Harmony's "Shortnin' Bread" followed it.

Elizabeth Skokowski sang "Old Man River" and "Dance With the Dolly."

Closing the show was a finale with the entire company participating.

Interlocutor was Ruth Rightnauer. Endmen were Ruth Cappel, Ann Fessler, June Sedlock and Emily Austreich.

Director-accompanist was Orpha W. Miller. Co-director was Jean Keitz.

Chorus members were: Elizabeth Skokowski, Jean Keitz, Anna Mae Pollock, Helga Krause, Marie Weiss, Dolores Landis, Celeste Pauly, Lucy DiGiuseppi and Jeannette Stipa.

Margaret O'Dell, Pauline Lindauer, Martha Seiler, Alice Klink, Mertie Schwenk, Ethel Borne, Dorothy Beck, June Cinciripini, Mary O'Dell and Ann O'Dell.

Ann O'Feece, Florence Dick, Frances Sheddick, Evelyn Frain and LaVelle Crane.

Hand-made clowns decorated the front of the stage.

Winner of the "lucky-seat" cake was Maggie Lindauer. It had a blue fringe and yellow roses in the center.
